SOME BEQUESTS IN WALDBART WILL FAIL TO SATISFY

Housekeeper, Left $75,000,
Home and Two Autos,
Considers She Has Been Treated Shabbily.

$10,000 "A PITTANCE,"
HER SON DECLARES

"He Left Most of Fortune to People Who Had Never Done a Thing for Him,"
Says Leslie Campbell.

George Waldbart's estate, covered by a blanket of orchids, was laid away yesterday in a marble vault in Bellefontaine cemetery. He died Saturday in his seventieth year after making $200,000 in a florist shop at 516 North Grand boulevard—selling flowers and buying good bonds when they were cheap.

His will was opened yesterday afternoon. He left money to a number of persons. Few of those to whom a Post-Dispatch reporter talked are satisfied.

His housekeeper, Mrs. Marion B. Campbell, of 455 West Pine boulevard, to whom he bequeathed $75,000, his home and two automobiles, considers she has been treated very shabbily indeed. She says she loaned him the $1400 with which he made his start in 1892, and he was to divide equally with her all his profits.

"A Mere Pittance,"
Her son, Leslie Campbell, deputy internal revenue collector, who was left $10,000 and a 10-acre country place on the Groby road, near Clayton, called his inheritance "a mere pittance," and recited how he had helped Waldbart manage his affairs. Waldbart's niece, Miss Anna Waldbart, of 2859 Etzel avenue, who will receive $1000 and $5 respectively, declared the testament unfair and implied that her brother, Alexander Waldbart, florist, thought the same of the $5 he left to each.

His three former employees, to whom he intended leaving his business, related how he had changed his mind and sold it to them for every cent they thought it was worth and $1500 besides.

Requests to Relatives Abroad.
His sister, Mrs. Anna Hermann, and three nieces, Anna Marie and Ida of Baden-Baden, Germany, and nephew, Eduard Hermann of Karlsruhe, Germany, who will inherit the bulk of the estate—an enormous sum in German marks—had seen their relative only once during the 42 years he was in America.

Waldbart left $1000 to St. Francis Xavier's Catholic Church, $5000 to his physician, Dr. William Kier, of 2609 Lindell boulevard, and $1000 each to Andrew Hoffman, Christian K. Kilmer, Frederick Michel, and the late David Banzhoff, all former employees.

Such personal testimony regarding George Waldbart and his will as was gathered by the reporter follows:

Leslie Campbell, who spoke for himself and his mother:

"It was an unfair will. He knew it was when he made it. He left most of his fortune to people who had never done a thing for him whom he had never seen but once. He made a visit over there in 1917. The little girls climbed on his neck and called him 'Der Teher onkel.'"

Tells of Early Struggles.
"Anybody who knows us will tell you what my mother did for George Waldbart. He was working for his brother, Alex, in a greenhouse at Grand and Chestnut, when he came to board with my mother on Walnut street 25 years ago. He begged her to lend him money so that he could start out for himself. She loaned him every penny she had and he promised her that if his business prospered he would divide half and half."

"My mother felt sorry for him. He had broken with his brother over the move into his own business and had no one to look after him. I was a small boy then and she was dependent upon his promise of a partnership. The years went on and when she would ask him for her money he would get angry and scold. He did pay her back the $1400 with interest, but what could she do with $1400? So she worked as a housekeeper for him for $25

CAMPAIGN FOR COMMUNITY FUND ENDS; GOAL PASSED

$1,152,658 Total of Pledges
Is $70,974 More Than Was Sought in 10 Days of Soliciting in Joint Effort for Benefit of 40 Charities.

ADDITIONAL GIFTS ARE EXPECTED

Contributors Number More Than 75,000—Workers, at Dinner Marking Close of Canvass, Hold Demonstration.

St. Louis and St. Louis County people cared for the needs of persons helped by 40 charities of the city and county, and so the $1,081,684 Community Fund for 1923 was oversubscribed by $70,974.39. The 10-day campaign, which had as its slogan, "Suppose Nobody Cared?" came to a close last night when the announcement that pledges totaled $1,152,658.39, with some additional gifts expected to be reported this week.

Success of the work is regarded by the campaign leaders as a civic achievement, meaning as much in its way as the recent passage of the $57,000,000 bond issue meant in another way. Individuals, married couples, corporations and other givers to the fund—those who cared and were able to give their feeling of financial expression—numbered 75,801, up to last night.

Last year, fund officials stated, about 8000 gifts, amounting to about $450,000, were made to the member agencies individually, before the Community Fund idea was inaugurated here. There are three essentials to the plan of the fund—the economic advantage of organized philanthropy, the passage of the one campaign, eliminating many duplicating "drives" for money and "tag days," and the greatly reduced cost of raising money for charity.

Expenses figured at $268,723. The 40 member agencies figured their expenses for the calendar year 1923 at $2,654,763, their earnings from ordinary sources at $1,319,438, their income from endowments at $195,515, and their needs and contributions at $965,510. In addition, some of them had deficits from last year amounting to $112,174. Desiring to start with a clean slate, the community fund combined the gifts and the deficits, making the goal of $1,081,684.

The Community Fund is incorporated. The fund will be paid out to the member agencies in monthly installments, according to a definite budget. The budget needs range from $450 for the St. Louis Committee of the American Society for the Control of Cancer, to $141,622 for the Provident Association.

Agencies to Share in Fund.
The other agencies to share in the fund are: Barnes Hospital, Big Brother Organization, Big Sister Organization, Board of Religious Organizations, Central Institute for the Deaf, Central Purchasing Bureau, Children's Aid Society, Children's Hospital, Christian Orphans' Home, Colored Orphans' Home, Community Council, County Welfare Association, Disabled Veterans' Clubhouse, Epworth School for Girls, Euclid House, Hospital Social Service, International Institute of the Y. W. C. A., Junior League, Kingdom House, Maternity Hospital, Methodist Orphans' Home, Mission Free School, Missouri Association for Occupational Therapy, Missouri Social Hygiene Association, Missouri Welfare League, Neighborhood Association, People's Hospital, Protestant Orphans' Home, Pure Milk Commission, Salvation Army Relief Department, Salvation Army Rescue Home, Social Service and Welfare Department of the Church Federation, Social Service Exchange, South Side Public Health Nursing and Teaching Center, Urban League, Visiting Nurse Association, Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. In addition, $37,840 is included for the campaign expense and $31,217 for the expense of the Community Fund in supervising the fund.

Will Enable All to Operate.
The Community Fund will enable the member agencies to render "100-per-cent" service this year, officials have declared, whereas some of them were able to operate at only 60 or 70 per cent of capacity last year for lack of money.

Fear had been expressed that the goal of the campaign would not be reached. Last Thursday less than 50 per cent of the quota had been raised. Final announcement of the amount raised, after outstanding pledge cards have been checked up, may not be made till the end of the week.

The individual subscribers' division of the campaign, comprising 64 teams of workers soliciting the general public, had a quota of $743,111 to raise, more than two-thirds of the total. It obtained pledges of $141,233.11, in 17,464 separate subscriptions. These pledges were for an average of $40 each, while the aver-

Brick Wall Collapses on Truck After Machine Skids Into Store

The three-story front of a brick building at 1300 Olive street collapsed at 8:50 a. m. today, when a five-ton automobile truck, which had collided with a street car at the intersection of Olive and Thirteenth streets, skidded across the sidewalk and crashed into the first-floor storehouse. Traffic on the Olive line was blocked about 40 minutes.

The accident occurred when the morning rush of street car traffic still was on and hundreds of persons had to walk from the blocked cars, which extended in a line on Olive street about 13 blocks west of Thirteenth street.

Efforts to pull the automobile truck from under the pile of debris failed until a drag line was hitched to a street car.

HOUSEKEEPER FINDS EMPLOYER,

Henry Koerber, 4714 McPherson Avenue, Believed to Have Killed Self.
Henry Koerber, 82 years old, was found dead in the bathroom of his home, in an apartment at 4714 McPherson avenue, yesterday afternoon with a bullet wound in his left side and a revolver in his lap. The police believe he killed himself. He was a widower and lived alone, but had a housekeeper there in daytime, Mrs. Lollie Carroll, of 5627 Eitel avenue. He sent Mrs. Carroll to the Mercantile Library for some books at 3:30 p. m. yesterday. When she returned, about an hour later, she found him dead, seated on a chair. He had left her month's salary, a check, in an envelope on the library table. Mrs. Carroll telephoned for Koerber's son, Harry G. Koerber, of Home Park, St. Louis County. The housekeeper said Koerber had been acting strangely.

Child Burned to Death.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
POPULAR BLUFF, Mo., March 6.—Imogene Luttrell, 3 years old, was burned to death, her mother, Mrs. Homer Luttrell, probably fatally injured, when the home of Homer Luttrell, one mile west of Broseley, in this county, burned between 5 and 6 p. m. yesterday. Mrs. Luttrell and another woman left the former's two children and the one child of the latter in the house and went some distance from the house to feed stock. Mrs. Luttrell's 6-year-old son accompanied them. When the house was seen in flames the women went back and succeeded in rescuing the other woman's child and one of the Luttrell children. Imogene had taken refuge under a bed.

JUDGE ORDERS NEGRO WHO SHOT POLICEMAN FREED

Tells Jury Conviction of Joseph Kyle for Killing of Patrolman Stapleton Is Out of Question.

In ordering a jury to return a verdict of "not guilty" in the case of Joseph Kyle, negro saloon keeper, charged with murder in connection with the killing of Patrolman Patrick (Buddy) Stapleton on the night of May 26, last, Circuit Judge Falkenhainer stated from the bench yesterday that the circumstances surrounding the tragedy were such that conviction of Kyle was out of the question.

"The testimony offered by the state shows conclusively that Kyle retreated until his back was against a wall and that he shot only in defense of his life, not knowing at whom he was shooting, but aware that he was being shot at," Judge told the jury. "Under the common law there is nothing for me to do but to direct a verdict of not guilty."

The judge had sustained a demurrer by Kyle's attorney, filed at the conclusion of the state's case. The trial began at 2 p. m. yesterday, and was completed two hours later.

Story of Patrolman Leary.
Patrolman Michael J. Leary, who was with Patrolman Stapleton at the time the latter was killed, was the state's principal witness. His story of what occurred was substantially as follows:

The two patrolmen had been called to the home of Mabel Smith, a negro, at 1421 Papin street, at 10 p. m. She told them that someone was on the back porch, tampering with the window shutters. The patrolmen went to the porch and with the aid of a flashlight held by Patrolman Leary discovered a negro in the back yard.

Patrolman Stapleton fired at the negro, who ran into a "blind" alley. Patrolman Stapleton followed, and when he reached the alley fired again at the negro.

He encountered a brick asphalt at the head of the alley, which prevented him from going further, then turned and fired at Patrolman Stapleton. The latter fell dead with a bullet in his head.

Patrolman Leary emptied his revolver at the negro and then fired the remaining cartridges in Stapleton's revolver. He then turned no attention to his partner and later it was discovered that the negro had escaped.

Patrolman Leary said that neither he nor Stapleton informed the negro that they were policemen, and that it was probable that the negro did not recognize them as officers, although they were in uniform.

Here the thread of the story was taken up by Detective Sergeant In Cooper, negro, who arrested Kyle. He said that Kyle returned to his saloon after the shooting and remarked to several customers that he had shot a man.

Kyle had been living at the Smith woman's house and was extremely jealous of her, Cooper said. He had been informed that she was receiving the attention of another negro and went to investigate. He was raising the slats in the window shutter to look into the house when she heard the noise and summoned the policeman.

Kyle told Cooper, the latter testified, that he did not know that Stapleton and Leary were policemen. It was dark in the yard, Kyle told Cooper, and he mistook the policeman for friends of the Smith woman.

Candidates for Movie Censor as Dumb as the Most Beautiful

43 Applicants Unable to Make Passing Grade in Test for Chicago Position.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, March 6.—Unable to make a passing grade of 70, all of the 43 candidates for the position of movie censor of Chicago failed in the examination, the Civil Service Commission announced yesterday.

Among the questions asked were: "What is the meaning of the word immoral as applied to motion pictures?" "Would it be harmful to any class of people to exhibit a scene showing a burglar opening a money safe by either drilling or by the use of explosives and effecting all evidence of finger prints?"

"Would you sanction the showing of a writhing snake prominently shown in a motion picture scene?" "What sort of motion picture would tend to create contempt or hatred for a particular class of law-abiding citizens?"

Should a picture be shown that depicts a person administering a hypodermic injection which results in death?" "Give your reasons."

A new examination will be held.

INDEPENDENT MARKETERS OF PETROLEUM IN SESSION HERE

Methods of Competing With the Standard Oil Co. Discussed by About 500 Dealers.

Methods of competing with the Standard Oil Co. are being discussed today at Hotel Chase at the annual spring convention of the National Petroleum Marketers' Association, composed of independents of the industry. More than 500 members are in attendance.

Discussion will deal chiefly with financing, functioning and general interference with the "declaration of independence" of the association and a discussion to consider changes in its program and policies. The national advertising program will be discussed tomorrow, and the last day will be taken up with arguments and discussions regarding gasoline road taxes, inspection laws and various regulatory measures.

The American Oil Men's Association, composed of former members of the National Petroleum Marketers' Association, but which L. V. Nicholas, president of the marketers association, says is controlled by the Standard Oil Co., is meeting in Chicago.

VALUATION PLEA DENIED

Suburban Bondholders Had Sought Separate Estimates.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON, CITY, March 6.—The Public Service Commission yesterday denied an application for a separate valuation of the lines and property of the old Suburban Railway Co., now a part of the United Railways. The application was in behalf of holders of $8,000,000 of bonds on the Suburban lines.

The commission declared the applicants could not properly intervene in the United Railways valuation, which is about to be announced, and must raise the question of separate valuation in a separate case.

LOSES ANOTHER POINT TO HIS FORMER WIFE

Robert E. Nolker Must Pay Maintenance for Time Divorce Suit Was Pending.

Robert E. Nolker, electrical supply manufacturer and member of a wealthy family of former brewers, today lost another point in his divorce litigation with Mrs. Pearl Hyman Nolker, whose divorce decree was affirmed yesterday by the Missouri Supreme Court.

The St. Louis Court of Appeals today affirmed a ruling of the St. Louis Circuit Court, denying Nolker's application for a restraining order to prevent Mrs. Nolker from collecting $250 a month temporary maintenance money, granted her pending trial of her suit for separate maintenance, here in 1919.

Nolker resisted payment of the $250 a month on the ground that his wife's divorce suit, in the Clayton Circuit Court, was pending at the same time, and that the two proceedings were inconsistent. He argued that he had already been ordered, by the Clayton court, to pay $350 a month temporary alimony in the divorce case. The court held, however, that he had been protected by a provision of the Clayton court order, which permitted him to deduct from the $350 any payments made under the St. Louis court order.

By the appellate court's ruling, Nolker is required to pay to his wife $250 a month for the period from Dec. 1, 1919, to the granting of the divorce, Sept. 30, 1920, less the payments already made under the maintenance suit order.

MAN GETS TOTAL OF 15 YEARS FOR TWO KROGER ROBBERIES

Jury Finds Stanley Miller, 24, Guilty in Second Trial for Holding Up Grocery.

Convicted of two Kroger grocery store robberies, Stanley Miller, 24 years old, a former convict, has been sentenced to terms totaling 15 years. Miller, whose current name is said to be Freescheffer, lives in Ferguson.

A sealed verdict returned in Judge Grimm's court today, found Miller guilty of robbing the Kroger store at 1401 Brooklyn street, July 10 last, and taking $59. His sentence was fixed at 10 years. He was convicted last November of a similar robbery, June 30, at the Kroger store at 1429 Clinton street, in which $83 was taken. His sentence in that case was for five years. He served a family ally, Mer Rouge last August. The Attorney-General has charged that these hooded bands were composed of members of the Ku Klux Klan.

Judge Fred M. Odum's charge to the grand jury was described by Coco as "a great plea for law and order."

The Attorney-General will ask for 30 to 50 indictments ranging from assault and battery to murder.

CROWD EXCLUDED AT WHITNEY WEDDING

Model of Her Head Bridgroom's Present to Bride, Who Was Miss Marie Nerton.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.
(Copyright, 1923.)
PARIS, March 6.—All unauthorized persons were excluded from the Grand Church of the Holy Trinity yesterday during the marriage of Miss Marie Norton to Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney.

Reporters were refused admission by Frederick Beckman, who performed the ceremony, and he also turned out a crowd of girls and women who lined the cloister entrance.

However, the crowd had a good view of the bride and bridegroom when they left the church. Their automobile was not ready, the chauffeur, it is said, having been tipped by the camera men. The couple stood exposed to a battery of photographers for some time.

The bride blushed, stamped her foot and ejaculated "Zut alors!" the usual French exclamation of annoyance. Meanwhile her beauty was being audibly praised.

She wore a dress of white satin with elaborate crystal embroidery, a soft georgette scarf falling from her shoulders and being linked up to form a train. Her veil was of feather-weight lace.

The bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Whitney, sister of the bridegroom, and Frances Norton, sister of the bride. All three gowns were designed by Yvonne Davidson, wife of the sculptor, Jo Davidson.

Mrs. Sheridan Norton, the bride's mother, gave her daughter in marriage and Harry Payne Whitney was best man for his son who has spent his recent days in Paris, watching Davidson model his bride's head, young Whitney's present to his wife.

GRAND JURY READY TO RECEIVE MER ROUGE MURDER TESTIMONY

Many Indictments, From Assault and Battery to Murder, to Be Asked For.

By the Associated Press.
BOSTON, March 6.—With the organization of a Morehouse grand jury completed yesterday, Attorney-General A. V. Coco is expected today to present testimony obtained here last January in connection with kidnappings and other activities of masked bands which the State charges culminated in the death of Warr and T. F. Richard of Mer Rouge last August. The Attorney-General has charged that these hooded bands were composed of members of the Ku Klux Klan.

Judge Fred M. Odum's charge to the grand jury was described by Coco as "a great plea for law and order."

The Attorney-General will ask for 30 to 50 indictments ranging from assault and battery to murder.

"HUMAN FLY" DIED IN EFFORT TO MAKE $100

Young Widow Says He Had Been Out of Work—Some Declare
He Was to Get Only $50.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, March 6.—Not more than $100 and, according to one story, only $50 was the fee Harry Y. Young, a "human fly," contracted to receive for the stunt which yesterday ended in his spectacular death when he fell when trying to make the jump from the front of the Hotel Martinique and crashed on the pavement below. The money was not paid in advance.

Newspaper reporters and photographers in the big throng who saw the stunt man fall 10 stories to his death during the noon rush hour in one of the most congested shopping districts in the world—Greater New York—said today that the "human fly" they have seen work Young worked the fastest.

Though the walls were slippery because of the moisture-laden air, Young was creeping swiftly up the wall at a pace faster than a hotel carrier employs going up a ladder. Young had nothing but three-inch spaces into which he stuck his toes and fingers. Comments of observers here on reports that he had a premonition before he started.

Young apparently jumped at the chance to risk his life for a small sum, for his young widow, a 30-year-old bride of a few months, whose home was in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., said he had not worked all winter. So needy was he for money that, she said, he was performing an unheard-of stunt, "upside down" tight-rope walking.

He planned to introduce it over Niagara Falls.

On Young's back hung a sign reading "Safety Last"—for Young was an incorporator of the "Safety Last Society" formed last week by human flies, parachute jumpers and folk of adventurous liking whose occupation caused them to be listed by insurance companies as "bad risks."

When he reached the tenth floor, his foot slipped. Down he plunged. From the crowd rose a groan that grew like the moaning of the wind. Falling close to the wall, he crashed onto the balcony. His body was deflected out into the street.

TAXI KILLS WOMAN AT GRAND AND LAFAYETTE

Driver Said Rain Blurred Vision as He Turned Corner at About 10 Miles an Hour Last Night.

Mrs. Matilda Keller, 45 years old, a widow, was struck by a taxicab as she was crossing Grand boulevard at Lafayette avenue at 9:45 o'clock last night.

The chauffeur, Oliver Egan, 21, of 4211 West Parkin avenue, said he was driving about 10 miles an hour, going slowly to make a turn off Grand boulevard into Lafayette avenue, but that rain blurred his vision and he was unable to stop on the slippery pavement.

Egan took the body to Josephine Hospital, at Grand boulevard and Henrietta street, a block away, where it was identified several hours later by a witness at the A. J. Walter Candy Co., who said Mrs. Keller was a workman there.

Egan was arrested and is held for the coroner. Witnesses said he was going between 10 and 20 miles an hour and that Mrs. Keller was dragged about 15 feet. Mrs. Patrick O'Donnell, 2217 Lafayette avenue, was passenger in the taxicab.

Frank Pillar Jr., 3 years old, of 428 Collinsville avenue, East St. Louis, died at St. Mary's Hospital last night from injuries suffered when struck by an automobile truck last Friday.

The driver, Arthur J. Renfro, 19, of 2237 E. street, Granite City, was arrested on a charge of careless driving. He said he was driving about 10 miles an hour south in Collinsville avenue when the accident occurred. Frank, running in front of his truck before he could stop or swerve.

Death resulted from a fractured skull and internal injuries.

Police today are searching for the drivers of four motor vehicles who feloniously fled the scenes of accidents in which the four persons mentioned below were injured.

Theresa Kumpensky, 11, of 619 North King's highway, was struck by an automobile truck as she was crossing King's highway at Hodiament car tracks at 4:30 p. m. She was dragged nearly 100 feet, witnesses said, before being dropped. She was taken to the Missouri Baptist Sanitarium, where fractured ribs and internal injuries were reported.

John Rogers, 44, of 2901 Caroline street, suffered a compound fracture of the left leg when run into by an automobile as he was crossing Chouteau avenue in the 2900 block at 11:55 p. m. He was taken to the city hospital.

Paul Tait, 14, a Western Union messenger boy, of 5870 Garfield avenue, was found unconscious in Easton avenue, near Clark, at 11:45 p. m. Taken home and revived, he said he was riding his bicycle when "something" hit him. His bicycle was demolished and he suffered lacerations of the face and head.

Alma Wallace, 25, a negro, of 617 Montrose avenue, was struck by a Ford coupe at 7:25 p. m., as she stepped into Kings' highway to board a street car at Botanical avenue. She suffered lacerations of the neck and face.

Other Accidents.
Clement Poegeing, 14, of 2111 East Prairie avenue, knocked from his bicycle at 2:45 p. m. while riding west in Florissant avenue in the 2900 block. As he passed a coupe, an occupant opened the machine's door, which Clement ran into, suffering a fractured right arm.

Mrs. Lottie Kay, 28, of 2324 California avenue, suffered lacerations of the scalp and body bruises, when struck crossing Gravois avenue at...

Death resulted from a fractured skull and internal injuries.

Police today are searching for the drivers of four motor vehicles who feloniously fled the scenes of accidents in which the four persons mentioned below were injured.

Theresa Kumpensky, 11, of 619 North King's highway, was struck by an automobile truck as she was crossing King's highway at Hodiament car tracks at 4:30 p. m. She was dragged nearly 100 feet, witnesses said, before being dropped. She was taken to the Missouri Baptist Sanitarium, where fractured ribs and internal injuries were reported.

John Rogers, 44, of 2901 Caroline street, suffered a compound fracture of the left leg when run into by an automobile as he was crossing Chouteau avenue in the 2900 block at 11:55 p. m. He was taken to the city hospital.

Paul Tait, 14, a Western Union messenger boy, of 5870 Garfield avenue, was found unconscious in Easton avenue, near Clark, at 11:45 p. m. Taken home and revived, he said he was riding his bicycle when "something" hit him. His bicycle was demolished and he suffered lacerations of the face and head.

Alma Wallace, 25, a negro, of 617 Montrose avenue, was struck by a Ford coupe at 7:25 p. m., as she stepped into Kings' highway to board a street car at Botanical avenue. She suffered lacerations of the neck and face.

Other Accidents.
Clement Poegeing, 14, of 2111 East Prairie avenue, knocked from his bicycle at 2:45 p. m. while riding west in Florissant avenue in the 2900 block. As he passed a coupe, an occupant opened the machine's door, which Clement ran into, suffering a fractured right arm.

Mrs. Lottie Kay, 28, of 2324 California avenue, suffered lacerations of the scalp and body bruises, when struck crossing Gravois avenue at...

Exposition of Spring Apparel

IN this season's glass of fashion are reflected style trends from the world's four corners. Eccentric, Oriental bandings from India, the bolero of Spain's troubadour, the snug hip that features Russian peasant blouses, the opulence and center drapes of Cleopatra's Egypt that Paris, the style refiner of them all, has adopted and adapted to achieve the mode of Spring.

We invite you to visit this display of Apparel and accessories which mirrors faithfully the best style trends.

2 BANKRUPTCY PLEAS AGAINST HOME TRUST

Second Petition Involving United Builders Filed in St. Louis Federal Court.

The legal difficulties of the United Home Builders of America, a housing trust, were increased yesterday with the filing of an involuntary petition in bankruptcy against the company in Federal Court here, the second such case now pending against the loan concern, in the hands of a receiver.

Texas contract holders obtained a receivership order in Dallas, Jan. 28, last, and the first bankruptcy petition was filed in Federal Court at Dallas, Feb. 28. Both bankruptcy petitions allege the receivership constitutes an act of insolvency.

The petitioners and their claims in the petition filed yesterday are John M. Maupin, $280; William J. Maddox, $520, and R. A. McAlraith, $660, all of Galveston, Tex.

W. M. Webb, of Dallas, former president; William E. St. Louis banker and Republican politician, and A. A. Cooke, Dallas attorney, are named in the petition as trustees and general agents of the company.

Headquarters of the company formerly were in Dallas, and were removed to St. Louis last May, after Cooke had purchased a half-interest. Sale of his holdings and those of Webb to the Hawkins Home Mortgage Co., of Portland, Ind., was announced last December and the company offices removed from the United Home Building, 211 North Seventh street, to Portland last January while the receivership hearing was in progress at Dallas.

CITY CLUB GETS OPTION ON LOT

Purchase of Adjoining Ground to Be Considered Next Tuesday.

The City Club, a men's civic organization, has taken an option to purchase a lot adjoining its present building site southeast corner of Eleventh and Locust streets, on the south. Erection of a building for the club is under way on the present lot, fronting 85 feet on Eleventh street. The additional lot, the price of which is about $30,000, would add 45 feet to this frontage. The depth is 132 feet.

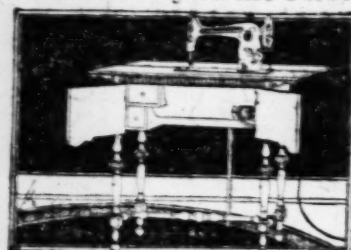

It is not the intention of the organization to change the building plan, but to keep the additional ground, now occupied by old buildings, in reserve for future expansion. The club paid $200,000 for the present lot and the building is to cost about $100,000. The proposal to buy the extra ground will be submitted to members next Tuesday.

Spring Exposition and Sale of Women's Suits and Furs

Fashion's Leading Suit Edict for Spring

MARKED enthusiasm is broadcast over the debut of the Three-Piece Modes—the costume complete. They conveniently comprise a street and semi-dress costume in a delightfully attractive manner. Frocks combine printed or plain crepes with the suit material itself, and skillfully use braid and handwork. Coats along jacqueting lines are the perfecting touch.

THE Spring Tailleur in the navy twill cords and hair-line stripes, the popular camel's hair and imported mixtures have a breezy air—an air of careless smartness that proves exceptionally becoming to most women. The straight short coats and long straight lines are always in demand. I noted two Mangone models in imported mixtures that used the kid binding instead of braid. Also there was a swagger imported mixture shown in an orchid shade with touches of darker embroidery.

SIX MURDER INDICTMENTS AGAINST WACO (TEX.) NEGRO

Roy Mitchell Accused of Killing Woman and Five Men in Less Than Year.

By the Associated Press.
WACO, Tex., March 6.—Nine indictments, six of which charge murder and three allege criminal assault upon women, were returned by the McLennan County grand jury today against Roy Mitchell, negro, held in jail here.

The true bills charge that Mitchell killed W. P. Driskell, Harrell Bolton, Grady Skipworth, W. E. Holt and Mrs. Ethel Denecamp, all of whom were slain in or near Waco within less than a year. The negro has signed confessions to these murders, according to county officers. He also is charged with killing Tony Alessandro on Jan. 10, 1932, and assaulting three women who were with Bolton, Skipworth and Holt the night they were killed. Mitchell will be placed on trial March 15 for the slaying of Holt and Mrs. Denecamp, who met death when automobiling on the night of Jan. 19, 1932. After shooting Holt the negro assaulted and later killed Mrs. Denecamp. County Attorney C. S. Farmer says Mitchell admitted in his alleged confession.

REAL ESTATE MAN FINED $100

Hardy Ligon Admits Striking C. M. Forman in Hotel.

Hardy Ligon, a real estate dealer at 815 Chestnut street, was fined $100 by Judge Miller of the Court of Criminal Correction today, on a charge of common assault preferred by C. M. Forman, a real estate dealer in the International Life Building.

Forman testified he was going down a corridor of the Maryland Hotel Jan. 26, when something struck him from behind. Turning, he said, he saw Ligon running away. He added that Ligon had formerly shared an office with him and they had trouble over the use of a telephone.

Ligon, on the witness stand, admitted striking Forman, saying he had heard some one fumble with a door of a room he was occupying and, opening it, he found Forman outside.

Fortune of $2,500,000 Left by Lady Cook to Be Divided Equally.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.
Copyright, 1933.
LONDON, March 6.—The $2,500,000 left by Lady Cook, better known as Tennessee Claflin, who died without making a will, will be divided equally among eight relatives, four in America and four in England. A. L. Claflin, one of her nephews, said today.

Those in the United States are A. H. Claflin of Chicago, Euclid Mills of San Francisco, Mrs. Polly Sparr of Brooklyn and Mrs. John Thompson of New York. In England are A. L. Claflin, C. C. Claflin, Mrs. John B. Claflin, Martin and Mrs. Ella Wells, all of London. Most of the property is in England. The late Sir Francis Cook was head of a well-known firm of wholesale drapers.

JAIL SENTENCE IN HOTEL CASE

Man Who Paid Bill With Bad Checks Gets Six Months.

Milton L. Levy, a traveling salesman from San Francisco, was sentenced to six months in the workhouse today in the Court of Criminal Correction on a charge of obtaining hotel service by false pretenses.

It was alleged that he paid his bill at the Jefferson Hotel, where he had stopped from Dec. 27 to Jan. 2 last, with checks for $150 and $10, drawn on a bank in San Francisco in which he had no funds.

INVITATION FOR FORD PLANT

East St. Louis Promises Co-Operation to Auto Maker.

The East St. Louis City Council yesterday adopted a resolution pledging Henry Ford "courteous treatment, hearty co-operation and all reasonable concessions wherever necessary" if he should establish a factory in or near East St. Louis.

As has been announced, Ford is considering several sites for a plant which he will establish in the St. Louis district. Several of the sites under consideration are on the east bank of the river.

Boscawen Quits Cabinet

LONDON, March 6.—Sir Arthur Griffith Boscawen, defeated in the election for the Mitcham division of Surrey, has resigned from his post as Minister of Health in the Bonar Law Cabinet.

Weak Kidneys Cause Rheumatism

If you have rheumatism it simply means that your blood is full of uric acid and other impurities, due to the fact that the kidneys are not working properly. It is the business of the kidneys to throw off this waste matter as fast as it is created. When they fail to do so the entire system becomes contaminated and all sort of ills and aches result. Restore the kidneys to sound condition—cleanse the system of accumulated poisons—and you will be free from rheumatism. Anti-Uric not only acts as a powerful blood purifier, but it helps to build up the weakened kidneys so that they can function as nature intended. Anti-Uric is sold on a written guarantee of money back if it fails to give satisfactory results in any case of rheumatism or arthritis. Price $1.50 at Drug & Disp.

Old Dutch
Your aluminum needs Old Dutch because it gently erases the dirt from this soft metal. It contains no harsh grit that tears and scars and soon wears your utensils out.

Old Dutch saves time and work

The fine, flat, flaky character of Old Dutch saves you time and work; that's because it spreads itself over more surface. That's the reason, too, that less of it removes more dirt than hard, gritty material whose sharp points only touch and scratch the surface.

Naturally a cleaning material that makes close contact with surfaces and takes away the dirt completely in a clean sweep and does the cleaning job in less time with less work.

But Old Dutch saves money, too, because it does more cleaning work than anything else you can buy. Your utensils will always be sweet and sanitary when you use it.

rekeeping Always Been A Pleasure With Us!

From the day we opened this little store, 50 years ago, today, "Customers First" has been our slogan. When the store was only 25 feet wide and 10 feet long, one or two buyers chased all the different kind of merchandise that was offered for sale. Today it has become a store of specialists, more than buyers, men and women in their various lines are usually on the alert for this new, beautiful and dependable store to offer thousands of patrons.

Those days, a couple hundred customers meant a very busy day for the 12 clerks then and today 10,000 customers are led on a sale day by our co-workers in a very satisfactory manner.

We Certainly Let You to Our Golden Anniversary

It is a pleasure to look about the thousands of smiling faces of customers who have had a wonderful Anniversary shopping and clerks who are glad with the merchandise they have for sale.

Every Day, Something New—Watch Our Bulletin.

WOMAN, 70, SUFFOCATED IN ROOMING HOUSE FIRE

Mrs. Ellen C. Kelley Found Dead Under Bed When Firemen Arrive.

Mrs. Ellen C. Kelley, 70 years old, a proofreader, who lived alone on the third floor of a rooming house at 2607 Market street, was suffocated at 8:40 o'clock last night by firemen who reached her room after fire had started on the third floor near her room from an overheated stove. Mrs. Kelley was dead when members of Engine Company No. 10 reached the room and carried her from the room.

Mrs. Mary Murphy, who occupies the second-floor quarters, told the police she smelled smoke and saw the fire on the third floor and ran to the engine house at Jefferson avenue and Walnut street, the firemen returning with her.

Mrs. Kelley had attempted to save herself by crawling under a bed, where she had been suffocated. The damage by fire amounted to $200.

Building Damaged $1500.
Fire in a two-story brick building at 1050-52 Modamont avenue at 3:30 a. m. today caused $1500 damage to contents of the Lieberman Bros. Shoe Co. on the first floor. The second floor flat above the store is unoccupied. The cause of the fire was not ascertained.

$3500 Loss in Chemical Plant.
Fire said to have been caused by spontaneous combustion in some chemicals, caused $3500 damage to the plant of the Hall Chemical Co., 2955 Park avenue, at 6 a. m. today.

Street Car Catches Fire.
An Olive-Maryland street car caught fire from a trolley wire that broke and dropped on the roof when the car was at Fourth and Locust streets at 8:45 last night. The Fire Department put out the blaze. The damage to the car was estimated at $50.

SIGNAL SYSTEM FOR FINANCIAL RATING OF CALLERS EXPLAINED
Yellow, Blue and Red Lights Used by Former Government Employee, 4 Witnesses Say.

CHICAGO, March 6.—The Government's case against Charles L. Hogue, former assistant district inspector of airplanes here during the war, charging him with conspiracy to defraud, ended abruptly yesterday when Judge Wilkerson instructed the jury to return a verdict of not guilty.

Judge Wilkerson said his instructions were based on the opinion that Hogue was mentally irresponsible while employed as district inspector. His condition resulting from injuries suffered at the front with the Canadian army prior to the United States' entry into the war.

The testimony revealed that Hogue maintained two lavish apartments, partly at the Government's expense, kept two liveried footmen, two automobiles and two chauffeurs.

At his office, witnesses testified, he had installed an elaborate system by which the office girl could signal to him the financial rating of callers. Ordinary visitors were rated a yellow light; men in fair circumstances were heralded by blue, and a burst of red proclaimed the approaching presence of a millionaire.

Albert J. Norton testified Hogue had employed him with the rank of aircraft inspector, but that his duties consisted of writing theses on the care and raising of orchids and on Darwinism.

Woman Alleges Theft of Gems.
By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 6.—John E. Black, 44 years old, a collector, was arrested yesterday on a charge preferred by Mrs. Mary Osborne, alleged that he robbed her of $1000 in diamonds after rendering her unconscious with two drinks of home made whiskey. Detectives found diamonds in Black's pockets, which Mrs. Osborne declared are her property. Black denies that he stole them and declared that he had intended to return the jewels to Mrs. Osborne.

TAKE SALTS IF RHEUMATISM IS BOTHERING YOU

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Take Salts to Get Rid of Toxic Acid.

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. If not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat no sweets for a while, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid or body waste matter, and is often generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this poison from the blood and cast it out. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this toxic acid, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove waste and stimulate the kidneys, thus helping to rid the blood of these rheumatic poisons.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

RIT

The 7 RIT (one dy) colors are the popular dark colors and require boiling. Fine for dark dresses, curtains, coverings, skirts, draperies, stockings and children's rompers. Easy to use—perfect results.

The 24 RIT lighter colors do not require boiling. Keep your dainty things fast and never wash with RIT washes as in dyas.

Piles

Can't Be Cured From the Outside
External treatments seldom cure Piles.

Don't do surgical operations. The cause is inside—bad circulation. The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby. The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead.

To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles, you must first get the circulation—send a fresh current through stagnant pools. Internal treatment is the one safe method. Ointments and cutting won't do it.

J. & Leonhardt, M. D., a specialist, has set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and tried it in 1000 cases before he was satisfied.

Now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., who will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer.

Pretty Rose-like Skin at Middle Age—How?

The natural color of the skin should be like that of a rose petal. If your skin is discolored, yellow, or has blackheads, try a treatment "facial" at home—just once—and note the quick change. Get a package of powdered tartarum from a druggist or toilet counter, mix a teaspoonful and a little lemon juice, spread over the face, neck and arms. Allow to stand a few minutes, then wash with water. The result is a clear, white, healthy skin.

After one application you will always have tartarum on hand. It is quite inexpensive, lasts a long time and as a result of the use your beauty will be truly natural.

Thursday—8 O'Clock

Spanish program, given by Club Guadalupano, arranged by Senor Francisco Alvarez and
Rev. W. F. Mullaly

11:30 O'Clock

Mrs. Hanaway McDonough, soprano; Vera Ottmann, violinist; mezzo-soprano; Mrs. Mary Han-away, Carol Bray, and Mrs.
Lillian Dress, pianist; Emmanuel Church, orchestra; Elise Achle, director.A special test concert to reach transoceanic points was given at 5 o'clock this morning from Station
K S D, the participants being Mrs.
Carrol Smith, soprano; Agnes Gray,
violinist, and Vernor Henshie,
pianist, and despite the early hour
the enthusiasm and artistry displayed by the performers was equal to that of any concert given in the evening.Five a. m. was chosen because of the absence of other broadcasting at that time. Listeners in Hawaii, the Island of Guam and Manila were notified of the time of the concert and were asked to try to tune in on K S D. Whether this is a possibility will remain a matter of doubt until letters can be received from these distant points, probably two or three weeks from now.The program presented was highly artistic, though not at all what might be called a "high brow" performance. The songs were ballads and the violin selections were the melodious kind that are known throughout the world. One particularly interesting one to Britshers was the old Londonderry air, "Farewell to Coculain," which has been arranged for violin by Kreisl, and included Miss Gray's part of the program. The only piano number on the program was the "Magic Fire" scene from "Die Walkure," which has been arranged for the piano by Brassin.Last night's concert at Station K
S D, as an artist's program, was far above the usual standard of excellence. Two Baltimore pianists, Mrs.
Schroeder, Fredericks and

An address on the origin and growth of the canning industry was of much interest. The speaker was
E. O. Heyl and he held that canning fruits and vegetables was originated by Napoleon, who offered a prize for an invention for keeping fresh foods for a long time. The inventorCorns Go

ELECTION SUIT DISMISSED

The suit filed Saturday to enjoin
the Board of Election Commissioners from placing the name of Louis A.
Lange, 1302 Clark avenue, on the primary ballot as a candidate for the Republican nomination for the Board of Aldermen from the Sixth Ward, was dismissed yesterday by the plaintiff, Walter Buchanan, when it was called for trial before Circuit Judge
Landwehr.Buchanan, who is a Deputy Sheriff, said he did not care to continue as plaintiff. It was alleged that Lange was not eligible for the nomination. William T. Ringhoff, 2742
Caroline street, also a Deputy Sheriff, is Lange's opponent.

AMERICAN HISTORY FOR CHILDREN

Santa Anna, Recalled From Exile to Help Mexico
Fight the Americans, Was Defeated by Taylor, and His Army Driven South of the Rio Grande.

Taylor's Men Ready for Santa Anna.

By HENDRIK VAN LOON,
Author of "The Story of Mankind."

OUR plan of campaign was as follows: One army, under General Taylor, was to fight its way south from the mouth of the Rio Grande, and drive the Mexicans back. A second army, under General Winfield Scott, was to land at Vera Cruz and fight its way west to Mexico City. A third army was to march west from Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, and seize New Mexico, then invade California, which they would later hold as war indemnity when Mexico had lost. It was perfectly obvious that she never could win.

Let us first follow General Taylor's Army. As soon as reinforcements had arrived from New Orleans, he attacked the Mexican Army, defeated them in two sharp battles at Palo Alto and Resaca de la Palma, and forced them out of the disputed territory across the Rio Grande. Following, he captured Matamoros on the eighteenth of May.

The Mexicans retreated to Monterrey, and Taylor stayed where he was during the summer, thinking out a plan of campaign. Not until September the twentieth did he attack Monterrey. After three days the Mexicans asked for terms. They were promised that if they would hand over the town, the Americans would not follow them for eight weeks.

When President Polk heard what General Taylor had promised, he was very much displeased. The sooner it was all over, the better. So he ordered Taylor to break the promised armistice and go ahead. Taylor obeyed and occupied Saltillo, which offered no resistance. On the twenty-ninth of December he entered the city of Victoria. Here he received orders to send half his force to Vera Cruz, to join the second army. As soon as they had left, he heard that General Santa Anna, with a great army, was marching north to annihilate him.

General Santa Anna had passed through troublous times since his retreat from Mexico in 1836. Then he had told General Sam Houston that he would be able to persuade his Government to accept the Rio Grande as its northern boundary. Instead of which, his very irate Government had clapped the worthy General into jail and later sent him into exile.

The political situation in Mexico is an ever-changing one. Ten years later he was invited to return from Habana, whither he had gone, to become not only Commander in Chief of the Army but President as well.

The American Navy allowed him to land at Vera Cruz and proceed unopposed to his capital. It was just possible that the General's political friends and foes might have a falling out upon his return, and a house or a nation divided against itself.

However, external pressure is one of the strongest helps toward internal union, and here was General Santa Anna, as we said before, sweeping down upon General Taylor and the remnant of his army.

Taylor marched the 5000 men left to him to Buena Vista, five miles south of Saltillo, where he placed them between two mountains. On the twenty-third of February, Santa Anna, with 20,000 men, made his attack. A terrific battle was waged, but in the end, the Mexicans were beaten and withdrew, leaving their dead and wounded on the battlefield.

The first army had done its job. The Mexicans were driven far south of the Rio Grande.

COUZENS' CHARGES COMPLETELY
FALSE, McNARY DECLARES

Banker Denies That He Borrowed From El Paso Bank Without Security.

By the Associated Press. March 6.—J. G. McNary of El Paso, who yesterday refused a recess appointment as Comptroller of the Currency, last night issued a statement saying:

"The statement given out by Senator Couzens is so completely false that, in justice to myself and my friends and the Senate Committee that recommended my confirmation, it must be replied to. It is in direct conflict with the records of the bank and with the facts submitted to the committee on which it made its report recommending my confirmation.

"First, for instance, the statement that I had borrowed in amounts from $5000 to $170,000 from the First National Bank of El Paso without security, is utterly false, as shown by the records of the bank and by the facts submitted to the Senate Committee.

"Second, the statement that 52 times during a period of six months the bank was in a position of having a suit instituted for the forfeiture of its charter, is false in every particular.

"Third, the statement that the bank and I had speculated in sugar is false, neither ever having speculated in sugar to the extent of a dollar.

"Fourth, the statement that a loan was made by any officer of the bank after the Board of Directors had declined to approve is wholly false.

"Senator Couzens says, 'Mr. McNary has told me that he contributed $20,000 to the national Republican campaign fund.'

"Senator Couzens knew when he made that statement that I had made no such statement to him."

PARIS, WHO SAID BANK NEEDED
GUARDIAN, REFUSES NEW TRIAL

Judge Does Not Believe Remark
Prejudicial Jury Against Boatmen's Institution in Suit.

A remark by Federal Judge Paris that "both sides need guardians," made at the conclusion of the recent trial of a suit by the Boatmen's Bank to collect $24,610 from the Santa Fe Railroad was not considered by the Judge as ample ground for a new trial, and yesterday he overruled such a motion presented by attorneys for the bank.

Walter Saunders, attorney for the bank, which lost the case, argued that the remark was prejudicial to the plaintiffs case.

"As far as prejudicing the jury," the Judge said, "there were better business men on the jury in a week than I would be in a lifetime."

He added that the case had been the hardest one of the year to try, and a Judge should not be required to try more than one of that kind a year. In overruling the motion for a new trial he said the plaintiffs could take an appeal.

The sum involved had been turned over by the bank to Selig Schwartz and his son, Frank, scrap-iron dealers in 1921, on invoices purporting to show that a certain number of barrels of fuel oil had been received by the railroad company from the General Refining Co. of Tulsa, Ok., through the Schwartzes, as brokers. The latter had an arrangement with the bank to finance them by cashing the invoices, when accompanied by tank-run slips, signed by gaugers for the seller and purchaser, showing delivery. The railroad conceded oil valued at $24,610 had not been delivered, and tank-run slips produced were not signed by a gauger for the company. The jury returned a verdict for the Santa Fe.

AUSTRIAN PRESIDENT'S MOTHER
CHAMPIONS HOUSEKEEPING

In Address on Eve of Census, She Urges Women to List Themselves as Housewives.

By the Associated Press. VIENNA, March 6.—An ardent champion of the profession of house-keeping has come forward in the person of the aged mother of President Hainisch. On the eve of the Austrian census she has addressed a message to members of her sex in which she says:

"The census forms make it appear as though you were supported in silence by the rest of the family. I therefore urge you to preserve your woman's dignity by entering yourself as the housewife in your own home."

The message is countersigned by Princess Metternich and nine other prominent social workers.

A safe, certain method for ridding the skin of such hairy growths is as follows: Mix a paste with some powdered cuticura and water, apply to hairy surface about 5 minutes, then rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This is entirely harmless and seldom requires repeating, but to avoid disappointment, it is advisable to see that you get genuine cuticura. Mix fresh as directed.

Is Rheumatism
Dragging You Into Old Age?

FOR years doctors have watched the marvelous results obtained by the use of Radium in the treatment of almost every known ailment. But the most amazing result of all was the quick relief this Radium power gave in even the most stubborn cases of rheumatism and neuritis.

Yet knowing the astonishing benefits gained through its use, only a few of the thousands upon thousands of sufferers were able to avail themselves of this wonderful Radium-element. But now with the discovery of ARIUM a means is provided for supplying genuine Radium in a form that is within reach of every man, woman and child suffering the agony of rheumatism.

Men and women thought beyond human help have been brought back to buoyant vigorous health by the action of the remarkable Radium forces in ARIUM. Men who were bent nearly double—whose joints were twisted and deformed—have watched with wonder their return to splendid physical fitness and felt the glorious relief of a body free from all aches and pains.

ARIUM reduces inflammation and helps remove the cause of rheumatism by dissolving the salts of the body, which have crystallized and hardened on the nerve fibres.

By holding these salts in solution and thus preventing them from depositing on the bones, ARIUM has brought relief to the most helpless cases in the most marvelous manner.

ARIUM not only helps relieve you of the tortures of rheumatism, neuritis and gout, but you should be amazed at the new buoyancy that comes over you—the new energy surging through your veins and the renewed feeling of youthful vitality. Tear out this announcement NOW and get YOUR box of ARIUM from any good druggist.

SHOTS FIRED INTO HOME BY GROUP DENIED ADMISSION

Man Presumably Mistaken for Another; an Assassin Probably Wounded.

A number of shots from revolvers and one from a sawed-off shotgun were fired into the home of Dallas Weston, 35, of 2346 Illinois avenue, by a crowd of men Sunday night at 11:30 o'clock. Police reported they believed the shots fired were intended for another who lived at the same number on a street a block from the Weston home.

Weston said he believed five men were in the group. They left an automobile parked half a block from his home, and rang his doorbell, demanding admission. As he answered the summons he asked what they wanted without opening the door. "Oh, Joe open up," one of the men remarked. "Get away," Weston warned the men as he could see one carried a shotgun. The shots followed. Weston obtained his revolver and fired six shots at the men as they retreated. One of the men staggered after one of his shots, and was assisted away by his companions. Another of the men dropped the shotgun and all fled to the machine and escaped. Police examining the premises reported finding bullets embedded in the cupboard, a table and baseboard in the Weston home. Weston is employed at the Junior High School.

Will of Webster Davis. Special to the Post-Dispatch. KANSAS CITY, March 6.—Webster Davis, former Mayor, who died Feb. 2, bequeathed an estate of $2500 in personal property to his niece Mrs. Dorothy Davis McCracken, Jefferson Barracks, St. Louis, according to his will, filed yesterday in Probate Court. The will was found in a safe deposit box in bank here, after a search by Davis' brother, Walter M. Davis, had failed to reveal such a document.

HAYMARKET CASE IS CITED AT HERRIN

Special Emphasis to Be Put on Alleged Widespread Conspiracy Charge in Trial.

MARION, Ill., March 6.—Sweeping aside all the legal skirmishing that marked the opening of the first Herrin trial, the prosecution today is continuing the introduction of evidence against Hugh Willis, state board member of the Illinois Mine Workers, and five other defendants charged with murder in connection with the outbreak.

Following out the intention announced in his opening statement to the jury by C. W. Middlekauff, special assistant to Attorney-General of Illinois, the prosecution is prepared to lay special emphasis on its contention that the killing of the 22 non-union miners resulted from a widespread conspiracy.

Haymarket Raid Case. The case of the Haymarket riots in Chicago, in which an editor and a speaker who took no actual part in the killings were found guilty of murder and hanged because they advocated violence was cited by Middlekauff in his statement as applying to the present case. The opening for the introduction of testimony along this line at the present trial was made by Judge D. T. Hartwell during the first trial, which resulted in a verdict of acquittal.

After a ruling permitting the introduction of testimony designed to show a conspiracy in the Herrin killings, Judge Hartwell instructed the first jury that, if one of the defendants had helped to take the non-union men from the mine and then had publicly announced that he would take no part in any acts of violence, he still would be guilty of murder if the jury found that his previous acts resulted in murder even though he had not actually been present at the time of the killing.

Another Survivor Testifies. Bernard J. Jones, another survivor of the riots, testified at the opening of the morning session of the trial that he was one of the armed guards at the mine of the Southern Illinois Coal Co. when the outbreak began.

Jones pointed out two of the defendants, James Brown, a negro, and Otis Clark, as two members of the mob he had seen with guns. He said that after the 43 non-union men in the mine had surrendered and laid down their arms on a promise of a safe conduct out of the country, he heard Clark say: "I have spent five nights watching these scabs and we'll kill them all, if I have to do it myself. This is West Virginia. We'll kill them all and wipe out the breed."

The witness asserted that another man whom he could not identify except as the one who had promised them safe conduct then said: "If you are going to do that I'll quit." Jones testified that he had seen Brown wearing a battered army helmet and carrying a gun marching up and down the line of prisoners and shouting "Live or die."

"Loose Them Under Gunfire." The witness said he had seen C. K. McDowell, crippled superintendent of the mine, taken from the line of prisoners by Clark and another man when he was unable to keep up with the line of march. Jones said Clark struck McDowell over the head with the butt end of a gun and knocked him down. It was near this spot that McDowell's body later was found.

The witness said that the prisoners were marched on until they came to a strip of woods and that an automobile drove up and he heard Clark say: "Here comes the president, here comes Willis." Jones testified that he had been knocked down then and was unable to recognize anyone in the automobile, but heard someone say to the president: "We're going to take these scabs into the woods and loose them under gunfire."

"Then we were forced to line up in a V formation before a barbed wire fence," the witness said. "Somebody told us 'When I say go you scabs start through that barbed wire.' Then I heard someone say 'go.' The shooting started and I climbed the fence and ran."

SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS WILL OF J. H. CHAMBERS

Contest Brought by Son of First Marriage—Estate Estimated at $250,000.

The will of James H. Chambers, 3944 West Pine boulevard, former president of the Dixie Chemical Co., who died in 1917 leaving an estate estimated at $250,000, was upheld yesterday by the Missouri Supreme Court in a suit contesting the will filed by John Ralph Chambers of Los Angeles.

Chambers left one-fifth of his estate in trust for the benefit of the plaintiff, who was a son by testator's first marriage, and the remainder to his second wife and their three children. Plaintiff objected to the trusteeship over this inheritance and alleged that he father, who was 52 years old, was not capable of making a will by reason of impaired mental condition.

SPENCER WORSTED ON ST. JOSEPH POSTMASTERSHIP

New Postmaster-General
Quickly Decides in Favor of Congressman Faust's Friend.

JUDGESHIP RACE IS NOW WIDE OPEN

Judge Grimm Among Five Men Considered to Have Chance to Get Federal Post.

By CHARLES G. ROSS,
Chief Washington Correspondent
of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Postmaster-General Harry S. New is a quick worker in the patronage field. Also, now that he is out of the Senate, a Senator looks like anybody else to him—at least Senator Spencer looks like anybody else, and I may be not so good.

The observations are inspired by an incident in New's office yesterday, just after he had been sworn in.

Entered Congressman Faust of St. Joseph, hot from hurry and rage, because he wanted to get away to join a congressional junket about to start from Washington; rage at Senator Spencer, Spencer, as already related, had blocked the confirmation of Elliot Marshall, Faust's friend as Postmaster at St. Joseph, after he had told Faust that he would not protest if Marshall should be named.

New was with Assistant Postmaster-General Bartlett and some other officials.

"Come right in, Charlie," drawled New. "We were just talking about your man. What do you want?"

"I want Elliot Marshall named acting Postmaster of St. Joseph," said Faust.

New Acts With Speed.

"All right," said New, and ordered the necessary papers drawn up.

"Thanks," said Faust, and hastened away to the junket.

Now that Congress has adjourned without the President having named former Circuit Judge Vital W. Garesche as Federal Judge at St. Joseph, the impression prevails among those who have followed the long controversy over this appointment that Garesche is definitely out of the running.

Inasmuch as the President resisted Senator Spencer's appeals for five or six months, even to the point, apparently, of letting the Eastern District go without its new Judge for the next nine months, it is not regarded as likely that Garesche's name again will be given serious consideration. This cannot be stated as a positive fact, but it is a reasonable inference from the President's failure to make the appointment before the end of the last Congress.

At one time the President was undoubtedly disposed to appoint Garesche. Spencer had worked assiduously to convince him that the opposition was purely selfish and amounted to nothing. Moreover, according to all the rules for the distribution of Federal patronage, Spencer was entitled to dictate the appointment, more especially as it was an appointment in his home city.

President Hesitated at Hurdle.

The President is a good party man and, so far as he consistently can, he plays the game according to the rules. He knows the game from the senatorial as well as the presidential angle. He is an amiable man. He simply made up his mind not to disappoint Spencer.

For days the issue hung in the balance. The President was at the hurdle but could not bring himself to take it. Procrastination is one of his amiable weaknesses.

In the course of the President's long hesitation, before he had right up against the hurdle of decision, the Post-Dispatch correspondent stated that Attorney-General Daugherty was against the Garesche appointment. Senator Spencer learned this. The event showed that Spencer either did not know or would not admit the facts. If Daugherty had recommended the appointment of Garesche, the appointment would have been made.

At the time the President was in the mood to appoint Garesche, he knew of the opposition in a general way and apparently was inclined to accept Spencer's valuation of it. He had not then had a chance to examine all the papers in the case, which the Department of Justice, at his request, had sent over to him, without any recommendation one way or the other. The "Garesche file" contained numerous strong protests against the proposed appointment. The President seems to have become convinced, after reading them, that the appointment would not be a fortunate one.

Contest Thrown Wide Open.

When he came to this decision, the President's mind was not clear. He was in a dilemma. He was torn between the end of Congress was deemed too short for the selection of another nominee. Spencer had readily declined to discuss any other

EDITORIAL ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH SECTION

ST. LOUIS, TUESDAY EVENING, MARCH 6, 1923.

67TH CONGRESS TALKED AND LEGISLATED FOR NEARLY TWO YEARS; CLOSING MONTHS DEVOID OF ANY STRIKING ACCOMPLISHMENT

Derided by Democrats as One of Most Futile in American History; Extolled by Republicans for Its Virtues.

By CHARLES G. ROSS,
Chief Washington Correspondent
of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Derided by Democrats as one of the most futile Congresses in American history, extolled by Republicans as one of the most important, the sixty-seventh Congress came to an end at noon Sunday. The first Congress to consist of more than three sessions, it had been talking and legislating for the better part of the two years of its existence.

Most of the legislative achievements of the Congress—if one's partisan slant permits them to be called achievements—came in the first two sessions, the extra session which met at the call of the President on April 11, 1921, to deal with taxation and the tariff, and the regular session beginning the following December. Saving the passage of the debt-funding bill, validating the terms of the Debt Commission's settlement with Great Britain, and the preparation of rural credits legislation, the closing months of the Congress, covered by the short extra session of last November and the final regular session, were devoid of any striking accomplishment.

The last two sessions, which have been mainly negative, Credit should be given, however, for the speed and efficiency with which the December session dealt with the annual supply bills under the newly inaugurated budget system.

Woman in the Senate.

A unique feature of this Congress was the presence of a woman in the Senate. True, she sat there only for a day, but the event was hailed throughout the country as a milestone in the progress of women toward complete economic and political equality with men. The first of her sex to come to the Capitol as the "Ambassador of Sovereignty" was Mrs. Rebecca L. Felton of Georgia, who was given a complimentary appointment by Gov. Hardwick to succeed the late Senator Watson. Mrs. Felton's brief tenure of her seat was terminated, by prerrearrangement, when Senator George was sworn in.

The last two sessions were marked by two notable Senatorial filibusters. Both successful, one by the Democrats against the Dyer anti-lynching bill, and the other by Democrats and insurgent Republicans against the ship subsidy bill, the measure which the President had vetoed so strongly and wholeheartedly that any other he has espoused in the two years of his administration.

Obsequies over the subsidy bill, in which many members of the President's own party in the Senate took part, at most, but a lukewarm interest, were completed by the vote which laid it aside for the filled bill, a farm bloc measure. A few days later, when the last session of the Senate passed the filled bill, which had previously received the approval of the House, the purpose of this bill was to stop the manufacture of filled milk and vegetable oil by preventing its shipment in interstate commerce.

Debate Curtained Sought.

The two filibusters brought on a request for the President to move to amend the Senate rules so as to curtail debate. It is possible that something along this line will be attempted in the next Congress. The filibusters emphasized the fact that a determined minority of the Senate can prevent a vote on any measure it sets out to defeat.

During the life of the sixty-seventh Congress there has been a pervading growth of Republican insurgency, especially in the Senate, where Borah, Norris, La Follette, Ladd and others of the left wing of the party and Couzens of Michigan, these fledglings, particularly Brookhart, had hardly been seated before they began to scandalize the Old Guard by their activity. Couzens, the "wild man" from Iowa, with his aversion to Wall street and dress clothes, formed a curious alliance. Seated at adjoining desks, they gleefully plotted the overthrow of the regular Republican machinery. They had much to do with organizing the fight on the subsidy bill.

The recalcitrance of this Congress gave the President a foreboding of what he may expect from the next, in which the Republicans will have control by only a scant margin in each of the two houses and the balance of power will be held by irregulars of the "progressive" persuasion. It was conceded on all hands that if the President could not force the subsidy bill through the outgoing Congress with its large admixture of "lame ducks," hopeful of executive favors, there would be no chance whatever for it in the next Congress.

"Lame Duck" Influence.

In an effort to end the "lame duck" influence for all time, the Senate Agricultural Committee, which is controlled by the progressives, reported out Norris' proposed Constitutional amendment, providing for the seating of a new Congress in the January following its election. Here, again, the progressives declined to follow the President, who had let it be known that he was opposed to "tinkering" with the present constitutional provision of a long "cooling-off" period between a congressional election and the convening of the newly chosen members.

Much to the general surprise—to the surprise, it seemed, of the Senate itself—the Norris resolution was brought to a vote in the upper House and passed by a majority of about 11 to 1. The Senate's action was regarded as a "top" to the progressive sentiment Republican strength at the November elections.

There was much talk during the Congress about suggested constitutional amendments of various sorts. One that gained considerable support was Senator Wadsworth's proposal to change the present amending machinery, so as to provide, in effect, a popular referendum on amendments submitted by Congress to the states. Notwithstanding its general opposition to constitutional modifications, the Administration itself urged, and the House passed, a measure to stop the issuance of tax-exempt securities. Another resolution which was singled out for serious discussion was that which sought to repair the present lack of congressional authority to force child labor.

With its hesitant Republican leadership, its warring factions in the Republican party, its surreptitious expediency, the Congress, especially in the last two sessions, wrote a record of which the page relating to the proposed constitutional amendments is typical; that is to say, it gave rather than took, and it half-executed than to the completion of constructive legislative projects.

It discussed at great length a new immigration law to replace the 3 per cent law of its own making, but it dropped short of action; it sidestepped new railroad legislation, dropped the radio control bill (a much-needed measure) in the face of opposition, evaded coming to grips with the President's recommendation of American participation in the League of Nations, and the proposed new court practices of the Federal judiciary, which the President had vetoed.

The Goldstein Episode.

Outstanding in the field other than legislative were the Goldstein episode and the resignation of Senator Newberry. The name of Nat Goldstein, a member of the National Committee of American participation in the League of Nations, and the proposed new court practices of the Federal judiciary, which the President had vetoed.

The Goldstein episode, which was the subject of a long and heated debate in the Senate, ended with the resignation of Senator Newberry. strongholds of prohibition. The "wets" predicted gains for their side in the next Congress.

Of special interest to St. Louis was a bill, enacted after many vicissitudes, which permits the Federal Reserve Bank of that city to go ahead with the erection of a new building. Less fortunate was a measure strongly urged by many St. Louis sportsmen in common with others throughout the United States, for the establishment of Federal shooting grounds and wild game refuges. This was passed by the Senate, but killed in the House on the theory that it would invade state rights and that the Federal Government should not have a grist of bulky reports, domineering for the most part, to the collection of dust on committee shelves. It is seldom that tangible results flow from the legislative process. The inquiry into the oil industry, which Senator La Follette prosecuted vigorously through several weeks near the close of the Congress, may prove of value to the country. A special investigation of the Teapot Dome transaction is slated to begin before the Public Lands Committee of the Senate next October. Other Senators, during part of the recess, were busy with the affairs of the Veterans' Bureau.

Aside from the ship subsidy and the bonus, the big legislative items before the Congress were the revenue and the tariff measures. Features of the revenue act were the repeal of the excess profits tax, the elimination of the so-called "nuisance" taxes and the reduction of the top bracket of income tax rates to 50 per cent of 55 per cent, the normal tax. Secretary Mellon urged that the 50 per cent tax be put in two, saying that the lower bracket would produce as much or more revenue for the Government, but his appeal fell on deaf ears.

Wrangling Over Tariff.

The Fordney-McCumber tariff bill, greatly increasing the rates fixed by the Tariff Commission, was written, rewritten and re-written during months of wrangling on the floors of Congress and in committees. As finally enacted into law, it carried a "reluctant" endorsement which enables the President, in his discretion, to reduce or increase rates in certain cases by 50 per cent or to fix duties on a basis of American production. The bill was received with widespread disapproval, reflected even in St. Louis Republican newspaper organs, and it was thought to have had a good deal to do with the party's defeat by the voters in November.

Republican leaders announced at the beginning of the Congress that the needs of the farmer, just then suffering from a severe price depression, would be kept foremost in mind. Much effort was devoted, consequently, to measures heralded as sure cures of the agricultural depression. Some of these bills were passed, through a system of compromise, through the Senate, but that account to have saved the farmer from disaster. Much was heard of the farm bloc, which, indeed, exerted a powerful influence on legislation.

The growth of this organization, operating across party lines, was one of the striking developments of the two years. Its success in imposing its will on the leadership of the two Houses, in the case of the tariff, the known desires of the administration, led to forecasts by some observers of the political trend that the two-party system would eventually break down and be succeeded by a government by bloc.

River Bloc Organized.

Following the example of the farm bloc, river men in the House organized a bipartisan group that included the leading river interests. The group, known as the "River Bloc," was organized for the purpose of securing more liberal treatment of the inland waterways of the country. Both this year and last, the bloc won striking victories over the Republican leaders and the budget makers by obtaining material increases in the budget allotment for waterways. The amount this year was raised from $27,000,000, as proposed in the budget, to $45,000,000. Coming now to particular items in the history of the first two sessions, when, as stated, the Congress did the great bulk of its constructive work, we find the ratification of the armistice conference treaties by the Senate standing out sharply from lesser achievements. All the treaties of which the most important were the battle-forgotten agreement to safeguard the peace of the Pacific, made safely through the mill.

Measures more or less concerned with the river and shipping interests, the opening of the Congress, the ratification of the armistice conference treaties by the Senate standing out sharply from lesser achievements. All the treaties of which the most important were the battle-forgotten agreement to safeguard the peace of the Pacific, made safely through the mill.

BAR TO INVESTIGATE COURT INVESTIGATORS

Activities of Court of Domestic Relation Employees Under Fire at Meeting.

A resolution to investigate the activities of the Court of Domestic Relations, where divorce cases are tried, was adopted last night by the St. Louis Bar Association on motion of Attorney Douglas W. Robert. The motion authorized the appointment of a committee "to inquire into the legal status and the activities of the investigators."

Attorney Robert said that instances had been called to his attention of investigators assuming a wide range of titles, and in some cases which he could find no authority in the statute under which the court operates. The investigators, he said, interviewed the plaintiffs and defendants as well as the witnesses and made a private report to the court. Much of the so-called evidence they obtain is not brought out in court, but nevertheless it tends to influence the judge so that he is in danger of deciding a case on unsworn testimony, Robert added.

Robert declared that the practice of some of the investigators seems to be to keep the proceedings secret. He admitted, among them Isaac H. Lionberger, a former president of the association, who resigned his membership several years ago. His name was proposed on his application by President Thompson. Reports were made by Arnold Just and C. M. Farrar in regard to legislative bills affecting the legal profession which are now pending.

POPE 'SATISFIED WITH MUSSOLINI'

Statement of Archbishop of Messina
After Visiting Vatican.

LONDON, March 6.—The Archbishop of Messina, after visiting the Vatican recently, issued a pastoral letter to his diocese, asserting that Pope Pius XI is well satisfied with the policy of Mussolini, says a Central News dispatch from Rome.

Northern Germany also is not lacking in secret organizations and troop formations. Will these keep quiet if the Government should be unable to avoid the necessity of negotiating with the powers now occupying the Ruhr? Cuno's cabinet has adopted the ancient formula of the French National Convention of refusing to negotiate while the enemy occupies a single foot of German territory.

In a hurried cinema, parades, court pomp, royalist demagoguery and he like are pictured on the screen while thousands applaud to the echo, Royalist attempts threaten from Bavaria the peace of Austria, who is following in the steps of Mussolini, also an ex-Socialist.

'LAME DUCKS' SLEW BILL TO DO AWAY WITH THEM

Representative Says Campbell and Mondell Stood in Way of Proposed Constitutional Amendment.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—"Only one man stood between us and victory. That man was Phil Campbell, and back of him was Mondell."

To this "lame duck" control of legislation does former Chairman Andrews (Republican of Nebraska), of the House Committee on Election of President, Vice President and Representatives, ascribe defeat of the Constitutional amendment to abolish "lame ducks" by doing away with holdover Congressmen and advancing the date of the inauguration. "Campbell," continued Andrews, was in position as speaker for the moment to recognize me and he was the man who stood in the way. "If I could have been here in the next Congress this amendment would be passed then, and I am sure it is not dead by any means."

TRIBUTE TO PITNEY'S WORK

Court Associates Say They Believe
Laborers Deserved His Health.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Correspondence between the Supreme Court and former Justice Mahlon Pitney, made the high esteem in which the retired Justice was held by his associates. Pointing out that for 10 years he had "given unremitting labor to the work of the court," the Justices in their joint letter to him declared that they were forced to the conclusion that he had "sacrificed" his health "in the earnest effort to do everything possible to further the work of the court."

The retired Justice replied that the appreciation of his work by his associates fully repaid his efforts to serve the court, even though overwork had undermined his health.

Harden Fears Rising Tide of German Hatred Against France May Swamp Europe

Royalists Taking Advantage of Situation—
Publicist Says Old World Will Be a Vast Cemetery Unless United States
"Mixes in European Affairs."

By MAXIMILIAN HARDEN,
Special Cable Dispatch to the Post-Dispatch.

BERLIN, March 6.—There is an increasing bitterness feeling throughout Germany against France and Belgium. The national hatred now directed God to punish France, as only recently it appealed to God to "strafe" England. It has enveloped the German soul with a fiery skin so that the futile negative policy which is unable to attain anything is regarded as higher than an earnest effort to solve the national problems.

If the deposed Emperor were able to tour Germany he would believe there was real hope for the return of his dynasty. In the theater which was the pride of Wilhelm Hohenzollern, where now Ebert by the grace of God couples the imperial boxes, the enthusiastic public seizes the occasion of the representation of a play wherein victims of Swiss tyrants join in an oath to purge the Fatherland from the foreign invader to sink "Deutschland Ueber Alles," stopping the performance to do so.

come much nearer to the ideals of Lincoln and Goethe. Where great capitalists predominate, the will for popular advancement is not the chief interest. Every patriot thinks his chief duty is the cultivation of the poison plant of national hate. Such performances as that in progress in Paris teach that the progress of the world is only technical, not spiritual.

The German defense of the Ruhr is technically admirable in its cunning boldness of passive resistance, comparable to the brilliant extemporizations during the war whereby blockaded raw materials were replaced or the deeds of the "ghost ships" such as the Emden or the Moewe and the merchant submarine Deutschland, which aroused the wonder of the world.

The Franco-Belgian occupation, which has developed far beyond the original plan, now after six weeks has not brought anything for the show window. Although the Ruhr, which previously exported 300,000 tons of coal daily, has long been cut off from unoccupied Germany, industry here still is working with undiminished activity.

Although the Government has been compelled to issue 30,000,000,000 marks daily, it has succeeded in stabilizing the issue at about 22,000 to the dollar and so has prepared the way for an internal gold loan. France, which had not expected as many difficulties, seeks comfort in ironical questions, seeking to learn how it is that a state which had stored up such material is unable to pay the small amounts due under the reparations clauses; how a country which in January declared it could not meet any obligations at all is now able to find billions for official and private Ruhr relief funds.

It also wishes to know how the Reichsbank, which now is not a state bank and whose gold reserves really are more than the victors will be able to guarantee the proposed gold loans.

"Decree That Hardens Hearts."

But Germany is not listening to those ironical questions. An attempt to elevate sabotage to national heroism has given a fresh impulse to the technique of deceit that hardens hearts as work hardens hands.

It seems easy to understand that the country of Lincoln is so far off that it is unwilling to mix itself in European affairs; but presently it will be obliged to do so, or the country which has been the stronghold of the white race will become a vast cemetery over which a future President of the United States will be obliged to mourn that lives American sacrificed in the late war really were given in vain.

It is to be hoped that this intervention will not come too late.

Glorying Frederick, the Great.

Another theater, which before the war was regarded as the stronghold of the rebels, has dug up an old play glorifying Frederick the Great and the noble corps of students. It is filled at every performance with a cheering multitude.

EDUCATION RIGHT APPROACH TO NEGRO PROBLEM, SAYS HARDING

President's Letter Read at Opening of Negro Conference in Capital.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Education is "precisely the right approach to the great problem of the negro race," President Harding told the Negro National Education Congress in a letter read at the opening of its conference here yesterday.

"It is true," he continued, "that the letter, 'that the same might be said of every other race or national or social element that goes to make up the total of our citizenship. But it is peculiarly true of the colored people, because they have been so little favored with educational opportunity and therefore have a great deficit in regard to the knowledge of the world. I have always felt that the right kind of effort along educational and industrial lines among the colored people is certain to be productive of the most useful results, both to them and the national interest in general."

"My own attitude towards the problem of the races of this country was so fully set forth in my address at Birmingham over a year ago that I can hardly add anything to that statement of it. I wish, however, to embrace this opportunity of assuring you and the members of the congress of my continued and most sympathetic interest in the effort you are putting forth in behalf of the race and of an effective composition of the race problem of this nation."

NEUN DENIES HE HAS EVER WORKED WITH DRY FORCES

Chairman of Republican City Committee Replies to Opponent in Race for Aldermanic Presidency.

SAYS HE DOESN'T EVEN KNOW THE REV. SHUPP

Declares Liquor Question
Isn't an Issue, but He "Never Believed in Prohibition."

Walter J. G. Neun, chairman of the Republican City Central Committee and candidate at next Friday's primary for the nomination for president of the Board of Aldermen, states that he has "never believed in or supported prohibition and has never worked with prohibition forces," in a statement made public today.

Neun replied to charges made yesterday by Oliver T. Remmers, attorney for Anheuser-Busch, Inc., his opponent for the nomination. "Remmers' formal statement, admitting that he voted for United States Senator Reed, a Democrat, in the November election, explaining that he did so because he regarded Reed as a 'wet' while Reed's Republican opponent, R. R. Brewster, he regarded as a 'dry'."

Charges of Remmers.

Remmers said that "Chairman Neun of the Republican City Committee issued repeated statements trying to link up the Republican voters for the Anti-Saloon League candidate for United States Senator."

Remmers said that leaders of several Republican factions appealed to him to help them save it, and that as a result the Liberal Republican Committee was organized, supported Reed and the Republican City ticket. Remmers then added: "I understand that Mr. Neun continued to work for the Anti-Saloon League candidate and he and Dr. Shupp went down together with Brewster. I should like to know if Shupp is superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Missouri."

Text of Neun's Reply.

Neun's statement, in reply to Remmers, follows:

"I said, when I accepted the important duties of friends to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for President of the Board of Aldermen, I should be dragged into a campaign of personal attack against me based on my support as Chairman of the Republican City Committee of the entire party ticket in last November's election. That was my legal and moral duty and I could and should have been and I am not loyally supported the ticket as nominated by the Republicans in the primary. Mr. Remmers charges with affiliating with 'dry' organizations in that campaign. The Board of Aldermen should do nothing about the liquor question, and it is not an issue in this campaign, but for the benefit of all who are interested, I shall state that I have never believed in or supported prohibition, and have never worked with prohibition forces in the last or any other campaigns, and I do not even know Dr. Shupp."

Attitude on Bond Issue.

Neun also gave his attitude toward the Citizens' Supervisory Committee on Bond Issue Expenditures. It follows:

"When the bond issue was submitted to the voters it was with the understanding that the funds so obtained would be expended under the supervision of a Citizens' Bond Supervisory Committee, composed of residents of established reputation. This supervision is an assurance that the bond funds will be properly and economically spent and I will, if elected, work in perfect harmony with this committee and officials, to the end that every cent of the bond funds will be honestly and efficiently handled."

Statement by Remmers.

When Remmers was asked for a statement of his attitude toward the Supervisory Committee today, he said:

"The Citizens' Advisory Committee is composed of excellent gentlemen who are going to make a splendid study of this question. If elected, I will give great weight to their recommendations, but I hold office under authority of the city charter, which responsibility cannot be shifted. I will work in harmony with them as long as their suggestions are in harmony with the city charter and the will of the people."

The closing days of the Republican primary campaign, which ends with the primary Friday, are expected to be as lively as tomorrow night during a negro mass meeting to which all Republican candidates for nomination have been invited from St. Louis Argue Hall, 3331 Market street.

One man meeting in connection with the meeting and before the closing of the primary.

Charges of Remmers.

Other athletes, besides those mentioned above, who went through the paces for the first time yesterday, were Pitchers Doak, Haines, North, Sherdal, Barfoot and Stuart; Infielders Gainer and Toporcer and Outfielder Flack. Flack's underplanning gave him great trouble a year ago, but he says this has disappeared entirely. He is one of the best lead-off men in the league and a mighty good outfielder when right.

Double Funeral for Man and Wife.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
MEXICO, Mo., March 6.—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weakley, widely known residents of Audrain County, died within 24 hours, and double funeral services were held today. Mrs. Weakley was 81 years old and her husband 85. Pneumonia was the cause of both deaths.

Don't use the whip on tired nerves — it means trouble

When the day's work is hard, you can't make it easier with stimulants.

Ask any doctor for the facts.

You can't over-draw energy without paying.

Coffee contains the nerve-stimulating drug, caffeine. When coffee is used to overcome fatigue, it means whipping the tired nerves into a run.

You may seem to get added strength—but there's a settlement coming for an over-drawn account.

Take care!

Rest is the cure for fatigue. Health is the equipment for hard tasks.

Rest and health are interfered with when nerves are over-stimulated.

You've seen plenty of proof. How many people do you know who say, "I have to go slow on coffee; it keeps me awake nights?"

How is it in your own case? Have you counted restless night hours after the evening cup of coffee?

Treat your health sensibly that you may meet your task capably.

Don't try to draw strength from over-driven nerves. That way lies weakness. Don't increase over-work by using stimulants. You are merely postponing and increasing the penalties.

Be fair to yourself!

For a hot, comforting beverage, drink Postum and let nerves have their natural rest.

There's charm without harm in Postum—a delightful, satisfying cereal beverage; rich, seal-brown in color, delicious in flavor and aroma, and containing nothing that can irritate nerves or disturb health. Postum is safe and enjoyable for every member of the family.

Thousands who formerly used coffee or tea, and began to pay the penalties of nerve-stimulation, now use Postum and praise its comforting goodness.

The road to health is a good road for anybody to follow.

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared; made by boiling fully 20 minutes.

LIGHTING FIXTURES

Your first idea in selecting your lighting fixtures should be suitability.

All our lighting fixtures are hung in a series of many small rooms, the size of those in the average home. This enables you to better judge whether or not the proportions are correct for the space you have, and also the color effects.

We invite you to view the many new and beautiful enameled effects we are showing at this time in cream and dainty colorings, which are especially popular for bedrooms.

ASHBURN PREPARED TO SEIZE GOLTRA BARGE

Inland Waterway Chief Due Here Tomorrow and May Take Court Action.

Col. T. Q. Ashburn, chief of inland and coastwise waterways of the War Department, will arrive in St. Louis tomorrow prepared to seize Edward F. Goltra's leased river fleet of four towboats and 12 barges.

He has said that Goltra will have 24 hours after his arrival in which to decide whether to surrender the fleet. After that period has elapsed, Col. Ashburn is prepared to bring court action to compel surrender.

He will be accompanied by W. L. Cole, former chairman of the Republican State Committee, a special assistant to the Attorney-General.

The Government's plan of action was decided yesterday at a conference of Acting Attorney-General Seymour C. Ashburn, Cole and Frank Davis, the law firm of Palmer, Davis and Scott, who represented Goltra.

Secretary Weeks has canceled Goltra's contract under an opinion from the Department of Justice that Goltra had failed to carry it out by his failure to maintain the fleet as a common carrier. Goltra, who is in Washington, has denied that he has failed to operate the fleet.

Only one of the four towboats has been used at any time by Goltra. He obtained a contract to carry a quantity of coal from Kentucky to the St. Louis Coke and Chemical Co. here. After a delay of several weeks he delivered some of the coal. On another occasion he undertook to carry cement from Hannibal to Government river operations on the Ohio River. The cargo was transferred to rail lines in St. Louis. The other three towboats have not carried any freight.

Frank Davis, of the law firm of Palmer, Davis & Scott, will leave Washington today for St. Louis to represent Goltra's interests. A member of the firm said today that it was called into the case only last Sunday afternoon, after the War Department order demanding surrender of the boats had been served on Goltra, and that it had not yet decided what advice to give him.

The head of the firm retained by Goltra is A. Mitchell Belmont, former Attorney-General of the United States, and the other members are former aides to Palmer in the Department of Justice.

FORMER CONGRESSWOMAN SUED

Miss Alice Robertson Accused of Slander by Former Secretary.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Miss Alice M. Robertson of Oklahoma, whose term as a member of the House has expired, was sued yesterday in the District of Columbia Supreme Court for $10,000 damages for alleged slander.

The suit was brought by Benjamin E. Cook, her former secretary, who charged that Miss Robertson, in a conversation, said he had sold her automobile without authority and had "pocketed the proceeds."

There may be a discussion at the meeting of the attitude of present members of the Board of Aldermen, who are seeking re-election, towards the Ku Klux Klan.

Klan to Be Discussed.
A resolution condemning the Klan was presented to the board some time ago, but a majority of the members refused to vote on it. The St. Louis Argus, a negro newspaper, published a list of those who refused to vote at the time and it is expected the matter will be brought up tomorrow night.

Although the Democrats have no contests at the primary it was learned today that they propose to conduct an active campaign before the election April 3. Dwight D. Turner, an attorney, who will be the Democratic nominee for President of the board, is compiling information regarding the conduct of the city's affairs during the recent Republican administration. He is expected to have his campaign on charges that the present administration has not given the city an economical and business-like administration.

name as a possibility. Not only that, but he had refused to recommend candidates for two other St. Louis Federal positions in which the Department of Justice desired to install Republicans in place of the Democratic incumbents—the United States District attorneyship and the marshalship. He said that he could not take up the ring of these places as long as the judgeship was pending. There are, in consequence, a number of disappointed candidates for these jobs. One of them is Blodgett Frost of St. Louis, who recently has spent considerable time at the capital in furtherance of his desire to be appointed to the attorneyship.

As to the judgeship, the field apparently has been thrown wide open. The names of 18 to 20 aspirants, with endorsements, are on file at the Department of Justice. Among the St. Louisans considered to have a chance are George C. Haddock, David W. Hill, former Speaker of the Missouri House of Representatives, Judge Hugo Grimm, Col. Robert Burkhart and Eugene McQuillan.

Daring Robberies in Kansas City.
By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 6.—The third daring robbery within two days was committed here yesterday afternoon, when three robbers kidnaped Edward Clark, superintendent of stations for the Monark Gasoline and Oil Co., commandeered his motor car, took nine sacks of money from him at the point of a revolver and escaped with them. The sacks contained about $2000.

Three robbers in a motor car early yesterday held up a men's furnishing store and took merchandise and cash valued at $2450.

The Girl in the Corner Apartment

XLIX.—THE SCENT OF LILACS.

THE CHARACTERS.
CYNTHIA BRANT, country girl, living in a New York apartment she has inherited from an old lady she once befriended.
RUBY ALLISON, her gay and frivolous friend.
ALEC KERR, Ruby's fiancé.
QUENTIN GRAY, an artist friend of Ruby's.
AUNT ELLEN, who keeps house for Cynthia.
MURRAY STEWART, for whom Cynthia is working as a stenographer.
MRS. WAKELAND, friend and rich client of Stewart's, who takes a fancy to Cynthia.
VIOLET JERROLD, friend of Murray's.

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT.

THE little count broke into the melting strains of Pagliacci, and Cynthia—on a sudden impulse—slipped through the curtains just behind her chair and out to a stone balcony which was cool and quiet and empty.

She was about to slip noiselessly back into the room again, when the owner of the cigar came toward her, and said, nonchalantly:

"What a lovely night it is! I'm sure the Milky Way up there? I'm rather fond of star-gazing."

Her heart beat violently. For she was alone with Murray Stewart.

Had he recognized her? Or was he merely showing the civility he would to any one of Margaret Wakeland's dinner guests?

"You got a better view from the other end of the balcony, if you saunter along this way." He seemed to take it for granted that whoever the unknown woman was, she would follow him. "Dark, isn't it?"

Without a word she turned and walked beside him to the far end, where two chairs, with rugs, were placed, as though ready set for intimate talk.

But Cynthia, nervous and shy, leaned up against the parapet, and her flushed cheeks brushed against a spray of scented lilac that protruded from a tree outside.

"I love the scent of it, don't you?" Murray Stewart caught the spray and broke it off. "Please take it. It's so like you, anyhow."

"Like me?" she echoed. "I don't understand."

"Shall I tell you, then?" His entrancing voice was low and full of meaning. "Spring is the loveliest season of the year—to me—with everything budding and growing, and the young sap rising in the trees—and hope rising in the human heart."

A trembling silence followed, as his voice died into silence.

"Yes? Please go on," Cynthia was hardly conscious that she spoke. The velvety darkness of this young May evening, the sweet scent of the flowers and tender green, and the disturbing presence of the man she loved, had almost hypnotized her, so that she seemed to be another person, and not the quiet country mouse of bygone days.

"You want me to go on?" He had moved closer to her, and his hand was on her arm. "You want to know just why that spray of lilac makes me think of you—though I don't need anything to make me think of you—that's the irony of everything?"

She tried to speak, but not a word would come, and the low, entrancing tones went on:

"When you walked into my office that enchanted morning it just seemed as though the very breath of spring had come to me, after long years of waiting. No, Cynthia—dear heart—don't draw away from me—always let me say, for once—once only, if you like—just what's tormented me? You shall—your mother—listen."

After heart was beating like a sledge hammer, and the lilac in her hand was held so tightly that its crushed sweetness filled the air with a heady sweetness, like a drug.

"All my life I've had ideals, and tried hard to live up to them, though God knows that isn't easy, in a town like this! I've dreamed of a girl like you—Cynthia—with soft, rippling hair that sprays out on her forehead and over her ears, just like that flower grows, with the scent of spring and purity about it, as you have."

"And your eyes! They're dark, and yet, one day, as you sat in my dusty, dingy office, bending over your machine, a glint of sunlight caught them, giving them a lilac color, so that every time I see the flower I seem to see your little face, your eyes!"

She found her voice. It seemed queer and far-away, for the gay music of the little god of love was in her ears, shutting out all human sounds save his own triumphant song of triumph.

"I—I never dreamed you thought—like that—of me. Why did you send me away?"

"Send you away?" he echoed blankly. "I never sent you away—I couldn't—when I feel like this about you. Why, dear heart, what do you mean? It was you who sent a message, saying that the work was much too hard for you—"

She gave a little startled exclamation. (Violet Jerrold had dared greatly!)

"You were ill. You couldn't come to work. I had hoped to hear from you, direct, but no word came. That hurt me, though I tried not to be selfish, for the work is close and confining, and sometimes it has seemed to me as though a breath of air would blow you away—"

He was almost incoherent in his explanations, but the heart of Cynthia glowed—and understood.

"Violet Jerrold very kindly offered to take your place until you were better. It was she who first told me—before you suggested such a thing—that you weren't strong enough for the post."

The phrase: "Before you suggested such a thing" was evidently the crux of the whole misunderstanding. Violet Jerrold had recklessly and deliberately lied, in order to oust her rival from the point of vantage in the young man's office, where she could have daily access to him, and advance her cause.

"There's been a mistake," said Cynthia quietly. "I never resigned my job. I went down to the office this morning, and was told the post was filled. I telephoned you, but couldn't reach you on the wire. And that was all."

She left Murray Stewart to put two and two together, knowing he was in no way dense.

Everything About the House Helps to Make the Home
By WANDA BARTON

Important Points to Remember in Buying Household Linens

THE season of annual white sales is upon us, and wise women are taking advantage of the many real bargains that are made available through them.

If one is willing to consider odd patterns and linens that are a bit soiled, real bargains are to be secured. For common wear, Scotch linens will be found durable, though not very fine. French linen is the finest and most expensive.

The new fashion in linen setting has changed the methods of buying linens. Breakfast sets consisting of one long and several short runners are also often used for luncheon as well. This does away with the old breakfast cloth. These runner sets are quite charming, also, in oyster white, Japanese linen or in unbleached linen. Dolly sets with a centerpiece are also popular.

The formal dinner cloth is the plain damask, with a satin-striped border. But the figured cloth is used on the home table, where cloths are still used for every day. Of course, Chinese straw sets, painted cloths and unbleached sets are very much in favor, and on the cook's lavatory, or on busy days, they are quite apt to find their way to the dinner table instead of the heavy cloth.

The laundry problem has had something to do with the change, though we are quite prone to lay all blame for such changes on the war.

No one objects to odd napkins, and there are many of these appearing in the sales in dozens or half dozens, at most attractive prices. Every woman feels she should have six ordinary tablecloths, two a little larger and finer for extra use and two large ones for holiday or special use.

Napkins to match each cloth are usually provided and kept for use with the cloths. But we always need extra napkins as well, and the sales afford the best opportunity to secure them.

Bedding also may be replenished at these sales. There are still some women who are old-fashioned enough to make their own sheets. The advantage in buying bedding is one of dimensions more than finish, though hand-hemmed sheets and cases do seem finer than machine-finished ones. It is old-fashioned, but seems very nice to see the carefully turned and sewed hem.

Sometimes even spread bargains are found at the sales and spreads are the most expensive of bed linens.

In towel buying the linen should be of course be of the best, as it stands and wears longest. Cotton has been used recently while linen was scarce, but cotton towels grow dark, and no amount of bleaching seems to keep them white like linen towels.

If linen cloth toweling is bought by the piece, and the towels are made they will last twice as long as those ready-made. Then the towels may be longer than those on sale. Odd towels from the sales will do nicely for common use and will save the finer home-made ones. We never can have too many towels. Some women even make their bath towels, but there is little economy in this and it is a lot of work.

Most of us have suffered from the over-considered guest-towel, and it is time to call a halt. Those done with delicate, quaint cross-stitch patterns are not bad, but those done in heavy solid embroidery are often an abomination. Hemstitching and appropriate lace edging are enough of an extra to do honor to the most distinguished guest, for no matter how wonderful a towel may be, still it is a towel at best.

Kitchen linens may be had at small prices at these sales. There are always enough pieces alike to supply a half-dozen or even a dozen towels that match.

THE WOMAN OF IT

By Marguerite Mooers Marshall

(Copyright, 1923.)

WANTED: A Cause for Women.
Isn't it wanted? Since American women won the vote has there been one movement, one question to bring them once more into mass formation? If so, where, when, what and how?

Nominations are now in order for a Burning Issue. We mean that. All the world's passion and poetry have been poured out over lost causes. Yet what is more truly pathetic—and funny—than the spectacle of loyal legions who have won their cause—American Suffragists, for example—and who have been at a loose end ever since? They are all dressed up in earnestness, enthusiasm, the technique of united action, and they have no place to go.

They can go to the Lucy Stone League, of course. But some of us wonder why it is so much more free and noble to wear the name of our father instead of the name of our husband. Then, there's the movement to abolish alimony, or to make women, as well as men, pay it. But this appeal is limited—so many of us neither are nor intend to be alimopians!

Alimony, like hypocrisy, is the homage vice pays to virtue. It is also the pension to veterans incapacitated in the war of sex.

Bring on, we repeat, the Burning Issue! What's yours? Please tell it to us, and let us pass it on through this column. "It is better," said Robert Louis Stevenson, "to travel hopefully than to arrive." It is! Let's forget we have arrived at the polls. Let's get going again—somewhere.

Hilary Belloc, Catholic priest, military historian and social philosopher, has just arrived in America to tell us of the perils that confront civilization and to raise to the boiling point the temperature of good Americans whose ancestors neglected to register on the well-known Rock.

Mr. Belloc might strike a spark in the gloom of his whither-are-we drifting stuff if he would only repeat to his audience the story which so amused Wilfrid Swann Blunt, his long-time neighbor. It is the tale of an Italian brigand who, after a long life of entertaining crime, was refused absolution for the first time at the age of 80 on the ground that he profaned the sacrament of penance. He persisted in bringing to the confessional an account of his affairs with the ladies. "E cosa impossibile," declared the priest, which may be freely translated, "The thing that can't be done."

One finds this tale in the second volume of Blunt's "My Diaries," an amazingly candid and fascinating collection of the "inside stuff" of European politics before the Great War. "My Diaries" were kept by a gallant English gentleman whose sympathies were always with the under dog and whose brain and pen were always fighting his battles. The book, like Margot Asquith's Autobiography, makes one wonder why one wastes time on novels about people who aren't even dead—because they never lived.

And yet Americans never get the fine authentic thrill from Margot's memoirs. They made London's hair curl. We—especially the women of us—"ate up" Margot, but our individual seismographs didn't register the faintest shock. Why?

The line of low shockability in America seems about to reach the vanishing point.

What does shock us nowadays? Where are the thrills of yesteryear? A good woman used to devote at least half of her well-spent life to being shocked. There was usually some book or other, guaranteed to give cold chills and hot, denunciatory adjectives to the most virtuous. Not all of the recent court prosecutions have so overbrimmed with delightful horror the feminine heart as one did Sarah Grand's "The Heavenly Twins" or Elmer Glyn's "Three Weeks." Women read them, and lent them to other women, and hid them from the children, and said, "Dis-GUST-ing!"

When the supply of fevered fiction failed, the neighbors we had all-ways with us. Vicarious extravaganzas, vicarious debauchery, vicarious passions—were embodied in them all. A woman with a large circle of friends could depend on being properly horrified at least once every day in the year.

Life is far less interesting with the exhaustion of the capacity for virtuous indignation. The persons who used to shock us must feel this, too. Ever so many women have stopped smoking, now that the rest of us have stopped viewing them with alarm.

Even the younger generation is almost out of the menace class. It is meekly letting its hair grow and its short skirts go.

"These birds who understood women," grumbled the Man-Who-Sometimes-Leans-on-Our-Desk—"well, it's all wrong! They don't. No man does."

"You've heard me speak of that telephone operator I knew in France? Nice girl—awfully nice girl. Absolutely straight. I hadn't met her since '18, but she passed through the other day on her way to the coast, and I went up to the Grand Central to see her off."

"We talked old times for 15 minutes and then I took their suitcases to the gate—there was another little girl with her. I was just putting up my hand when she looked up and said, 'Aren't you going to kiss me goodbye?'"

"This morning," the Man concluded wonderingly, "I got a night letter. It said my friend is coming back to New York before long and she threatens to ask you about that kiss. Don't let on that it was the first time you ever did it. Tell her you always did."

"Now WHAT is the explanation of THAT?"

But it is so simple—

No woman wants a kiss to be an isolated act of charity and grace—some Boy Scout's good deed for the day. She prefers it to be the presumption of a past—or the assumption of a future.

W. L. George is the man who awoke in the morning and found himself famous for understanding women. He admits it. So do some of the women who read his novels, although the verdict is by no means unanimous.

Mr. George, in the current issue of the Women's Home Companion, has a touching little story to illustrate that feminine modesty in which—so our critics inform us—modern women are deplorably lacking. The tale concerns Mr. George's paternal grandmother, whom his mother detected sprinkling several handfuls of bran in the bath she had just prepared for herself.

"Is bran good for the skin?" the younger woman asked.

"I use it," her mother-in-law informed her severely, "to cloud the water. Otherwise, I should not feel decent!"

Mr. Harding assures us that he is not going to call an extra session of Congress, because the country needs a rest. As regards Congress, some of us feel that we need Hamlet's brand of rest—you know: "The rest is silence."

TOPCOATS W L B

Resembling a Trim Little Frock Is This Apricot Wagon Coat Striped and Faced in Blue

Wrap-Around Coat of Soft Gray Woolen Is Plaided in Darker Gray and Lined in Green

By Mme. Frances.

WHETHER you plan to travel or to remain at home, a good-looking topcoat is a very worthwhile possession. The new spring models are as practical as they are attractive.

In the first place, novelty woollens are all the rage. Never have there been so many delightful colors and patterns to choose from. Time was when a coat was a garment primarily for warmth. Usually it was of some dark material, well cut, but always on conventional lines.

Now a coat must be jaunty or it isn't in the running, and the owner feels rather out of it if an admiring friend can say: "Your coat is stunning. It's such-and-such material, isn't it?"

For if you're wearing a really up-to-the-minute model it'll be: "What a charming wrap. But do tell me what the material is. I could never guess. Haven't seen anything like it."

Then you can know that your topcoat is really all that it should be, and you can murmur: "My dear, it's one of the novelty woollens," with a detached air that doesn't give away at all how pleased you are.

are that your modiste never misses the newest innovations.

Since the one-piece frock has come into a place of such prominence, the attractive topcoat is more of a necessity than it ever was. The simple, smart frock is worn morning or afternoon, and when its wearer wishes to go out, all she has to do is slip her long coat on over it, pull on a chic little hat and she's ready.

Some of the new coats resemble dresses in their lines. We see the model that is pulled in tightly at the waist by means of a string belt and then flares grandly below this. This is much the same type as the frock whose bodice follows the lines of the figure more or less closely, and whose skirt is gathered.

At the left you'll see a model that might be a trim little frock for all its smartness of line. Its material is an apricot woolen, with slender horizontal lines of navy blue, so that the wrong side shows.

uable for motoring, for travel, for cool days in the country or at the seashore. They are equally smart with the simple frocks or with the chic box suits which are so new. The gaiety of their coloring reminds one of the present vogue for umbrellas of purple and red and bright blue. Just because the weather happens to be disagreeable, we've learned, is no reason for us to put on a somber appearance and be as cheerless as possible ourselves. And it's so much brighter, on a rainy day in the city, to look down on a bobbing sea of gay umbrellas than a somber stream of dark ones.

It's the same with coats, and it's well to remember this when you go to select your new spring one. It's the season of bright colors, remember. It will be easy, too, to find a gay color which is becoming to you and of which you won't grow tired. If you have a becoming little hat which you can wear with it, you won't have to bother about the coat being a perfect match for all your frocks, as the new spring coats are all-enveloping, anyway.

Hats, of course, come in for a large share of interest at this season of the year. It's interesting to watch the trend of millinery in the very early-season stages. The woman who doesn't buy a hat every time the fancy strikes her naturally likes to wait until the fashion

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

Why Blacky Was So Upset By Thornton W. Burgess

Now and then through life you'll find
'Tis wisest not to speak your mind.

—Blacky the Crow.

I F ever any one in all the Great World was upset, that one was Blacky the Crow when he looked down into his old nest. As a matter of fact he didn't look into his old nest at all. He didn't look into his old nest because there was some one in the way. He couldn't see the inside of that nest at all. Instead of looking into the nest, he looked down on the back of a great bird dressed in reddish brown with black markings. She quite filled that nest. In fact, she almost more than filled it.

For a couple of seconds Blacky was too surprised to do more than simply stare. Then he opened his mouth to scream with anger, but closed it again and swallowed hard as if he was trying to swallow his anger. Then he looked all around hastily and saw sitting upon a short distance away a great bird with a round face, two big tufts of feathers standing up from his head like ears and the fiercest eyes in all the Green Forest.

Blacky almost tumbled over backward in his haste to get away. Yes, sir, he almost tumbled over backward. And how he did make those black wings of his go! You often hear of frightened people running headlong. Well, this is the way that Blacky flew. He flew headlong. And all the time he kept his tongue still. He kept his tongue still until he met Mrs. Blacky.

Of course, Mrs. Blacky knew the instant she saw Blacky that something was wrong. She knew that he was a badly frightened crow. She alighted in the top of a tall tree, and there Blacky joined her.

"For the love of the Green Forest what is the matter with you now, Blacky?" she demanded. "You look as if you had lost your wits with fright."

"Shh!" said Blacky. "I've looked straight into the eyes of death! Let's get away from here, my dear, and then I will tell you all about it."

For a couple of seconds Blacky was too surprised to do more than simply stare.

Blacky kept lifting first one foot and then the other nervously, and all the time he looked back toward the tree in which was their old nest. Mrs. Blacky looked over there, too, but she saw nothing wrong. She saw nothing to be afraid of, and she said so. You see she couldn't see that nest from where she sat. She opened her mouth to ask more questions, but Blacky didn't wait for them. He flew, and he didn't fly back toward that nest; he flew in quite the opposite direction.

Mrs. Blacky hesitated. She couldn't see anything to be afraid of, yet it was plain that Blacky had been frightened half out of his wits.

trend is rather definitely outlined before she chooses her hat.

And then if she's wise she will carefully avoid any type that shows indications of being overdone. For there's no joy or accomplishment in a hat that is an exact replica in material or shape of every third one you meet.

For instance, shiny satin hats showed early promise of being overdone in point of popularity. The woman who liked distinctive headgear realized that she should choose something equally as becoming that had a chance of being more unusual.

The wide range for selection permits ample choice of a model to suit individual types. You are sure to find just the hat that shows off the contour of your face to advantage if you search carefully.

You must be sure it goes well with your eyes and hair, and that, above all, it fits your head. Many a hat which is chosen wisely as far as color and shape go, loses all its smartness because it doesn't fit the head of the wearer. It must be comfortably tight, so that it stays in place when you put it there. Never, never, buy a hat that shows an expanse of space between your head and the edge of the crown.

The close-fitting little cloche finds many admirers this season. The wrapped turban is also a favorite. The latter is often worn with a novelty frock, suit or coat, the turban made of matching material. Such a costume was seen recently on a smart movie actress. Her coat was a red, white and black novelty weave affair, topped by a jaunty little matching turban.

ODD and INTERESTING FACTS

A few worms, including common earthworms, red earthworms and purple worms, are found in Iceland. Though the first named reaches normal size, the other two are somewhat smaller than their fellow-worms in this country.

Unlike Christmas, which is a fixed observance, Easter is a movable feast. It cannot be earlier than March 22 nor later than April 25. Easter is determined by the old paschal or Jewish lunar month, and always falls on the first Sunday after the full moon on or near after March 21. If the full moon falls on a Sunday, then Easter day is the next Sunday. The paschal moon is not the real moon, but a sort of arbitrary moon governed by European longitudes. If local longitudes were considered, Easter might fall on a different date in this country.

FROM now on some of your customers will tell you "they saw the same electric iron or toaster down the street at a lower price."

They really don't mean a Hotpoint Iron or Toaster—but merely some kind of an iron or toaster. You know yourself that while Hot-point Servants are reasonably priced they are not graded down to fit into a price market. So in order to help you clear up the confusion between lower grade electrical appliances and Hotpoint Servants, we are publishing the following in every one of our messages to American women—

Important Announcement

Rare indeed is the woman these days who needs to be reminded of the many ways that electricity can help in her household tasks.

But—electricity can serve you well and economically only when applied through scientific equipment.

The Hotpoint Servants are designed and made for practical, economical household work over a period of years.

The result of constant testing and refinement by the Engineers of the Hotpoint Laboratories.

No user of Hotpoint Servants could afford to have us slight our high standard of manufacture, simply to compete with an article of lesser price and reputation.

And we will NOT.

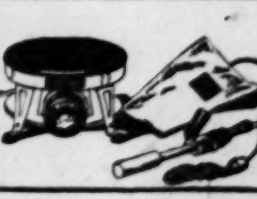

Recommend the Hotpoint Iron for reliability—steady, even heat, hottest at point. For the exclusive strength-saving Calender Handle—the lever applied in a straight line through the arm and wrist. The Hinged Plug Cord Protector doing away with jerking, bending and breaking of the cord. And the detached Steam—the iron is simply slid back on its heel—saving many pounds of lifting in a day's ironing.

BEST

Better than necessary

Unlike Plain Flour

"I-H is better flour because it comes from better wheat—strong, hard, winter wheat grown in Kansas. This higher quality is evident in its superior flavor, texture and color. Our modern milling carries refinement and purity to the utmost degree. Bread, biscuits and cakes baked of I-H flour outclass customary food. You promptly see, taste and feel the improvement. This proof of quality convinces the most skeptical. Sold by first-class dealers."

Dear Madam: We will pay $5.00 to any housewife sending us a recipe requiring I-H FLOUR, which, in our judgment, improves on recipes in I-H Recipe Book.
